FAMILY-STYLE MEALS AT THE HALI'IMAILE GENERAL STORE

By Beverly Gannon with Joan Namkoong

Family-style dining is back in vogue and has been re-imagined by one of the most prominent chefs in Hawai'i, James Beard Award nominee Beverly Gannon.

On the road to Haleakala, Maui's most famous dormant volcano, is one of the island's favorite destinations—the Hali'imaile General Store, where a laid-back atmosphere and top-flight menu welcome both residents and tourists. Developed from the restaurant's ever-popular repertoire, this all-new recipe collection is scaled for sit-down family suppers, lunches, and brunches, with built-in expandability for impromptu gatherings or full-on entertaining.

Down-to-earth recipes with a Pacific, Asian, and Southern flair combine with out-of-this-world location photography for a cookbook that a busy home chef will really use. Ingredient substitutions are included to help move dishes from the kitchen to the table with ease, and leftovers are skillfully adapted into future meals. Recipes are organized by the days of the week, based on a schedule Gannon's mother used, and are interwoven with charming family anecdotes.

About the Author

BEVERLY GANNON, a James Beard Award nominee in 2004, is one of the founders of the Hawai'i Regional Cuisine movement. In addition to being chef-owner of the Hali'imaile General Store and Joe's Bar & Grill in Wailea, Gannon is the executive chef of Hawaiian Airlines and oversees Celebrations Catering. She is grateful to wake up every morning on the beautiful island of Maui, Hawai'i. JOAN NAMKOONG is the coauthor with Roy Yamaguchi of Hawaii Cooks, and author of The Food Lover's Guide to Honolulu and Go Home, Cook Rice. She lives in cool, misty Waimea, on Hawai'i. Both authors are available for interviews.
