

Junie's Juice Driblets

Grape juice can go wrong. But this game is the bestest way to turn grape juice stains into grape juice fun!

- Hand out white sheets of paper and have each player draw and cut out a “graduation gown” and write his/her name on it.
- Put a wastebasket on the floor and place the gowns on the floor around it.
- Give each player five pieces of purple construction paper to crumple up.

The object of the game is for the players to throw their “drops of juice” (the crumpled-up purple paper) into the “cup” (the wastebasket) without getting any on the robes.

Players receive a purple star for each juice drop they get into the cup. The person with the cleanest robe at the end of the game gets a gold star.

Tape down the drops of juice that land on the players' robes and attach a piece of yarn to the robes so that each of your guests can wear their juice-stained gowns just like Junie B.!
