

The Boy WHO LOVED WORDS

My Favorite Word Pouch

Learn some of Selig's favorite words, then collect your very own and share your favorites with others!

Educators: Encourage your students to write down words they find intriguing on slips of paper. Have them keep their words in an envelope or "word pouch," which they may choose to decorate as they like. Below are reproducible word slips to get this activity going!

FRONT

BACK

Chockablock	Definition: Crowded <small>www.randomhouse.com/kids schwartz &amp; wade books</small>
Jibber-Jabber	Definition: Nonsense talk <small>www.randomhouse.com/kids schwartz &amp; wade books</small>
Mellifluous	Definition: Sweet-sounding <small>www.randomhouse.com/kids schwartz &amp; wade books</small>
Write a word that makes you laugh. _____	Definition: _____ _____ <small>www.randomhouse.com/kids schwartz &amp; wade books</small>
Write a word that makes you think. _____	Definition: _____ _____ <small>www.randomhouse.com/kids schwartz &amp; wade books</small>

Activities prepared by Kristi Weikel, elementary teacher, Rockville Centre, New York.