

Are you too predictable?

Find out if people can't wait to see what you'll do next—or already know your next move before you make it.

1] When it comes to changing up your style, you:

A Are a total chameleon. You have to change your hair color at least once a month or you get painfully bored!

B Are always evolving. Like if you spot a cool new Victorian fashion trend, you'll introduce some brocade and ruffles into your wardrobe.

C Don't do it that often. In fact, you've had the same basic look since sixth grade.

2] A typical Friday night for you means:

A Who knows? Every week, you seem to do something completely different with a new group of people.

B Just cruising around town with your friends until you guys decide what to do. But if you find out where your crush is going to be, you're totally there.

C Hanging out with your friends and watching DVDs.

3] You're bored with ski club and environmental club, so you:

A Start karate classes with a private instructor and take up photography on the side.

B Drop out of one of them and sign up for the literary journal at school instead.

C Figure you'll stick them out. If you still feel bored by the end of the year, you'll pick something new next year.

4] You totally hit it off with a jock, but you usually go for more artsy types. Your best friend would probably say:

A “You won’t stop till you date every type, will you?”

B “Hmmm . . . he’s different for you. Can’t wait to see what happens!”

C “Oh. My. God. I think hell has just frozen over!”

5] You’re staying at your friend’s house for dinner, and her mom puts a plate down in front of you with an Indian dish you’ve never even heard of before. You:

A Dig in. Anything exotic is good in your mind!

B Ask her mom what’s in the dish, and try it to be polite.

C Push it around on your plate but don’t taste it. You never eat anything if you’re not sure of all the ingredients.

[Mostly As] Live wire.

Your friends are constantly waiting to see what unpredictable stuff you’ll be up to next. One minute, you’ll be shopping quietly at the mall, and the next, you’re belting out the song that was stuck in your head at top lung capacity. “Boring” is the last word anyone would use to describe you, and you’ve come to like being known as the wild one. Just make sure you pull all those crazy antics because you want to, not because people around you expect you to. Keeping up any act, even a wacky one, can get exhausting!

[Mostly Bs] Mix master.

You're totally cool with breaking out of your comfort zone and doing something out of the ordinary, like switching up your look or ditching a club you're bored with, but you don't act crazy just for the sake of being offbeat. You have a desire for new experiences, but not a need for them, and people are naturally drawn to your fun, spontaneous self.

[Mostly Cs] Same drill sergeant.

People have come to count on your reliability. You're loyal to your tastes, and your friends know what to expect. It's tempting to stick to what you know works for you, but you might have a little more fun if you mix things up from time to time. It can get boring to eat the same foods and hang out with all the same people, so try a new dish or make a friend from a new crowd. Not only will the people around you see you in a surprising light, but you might experience something new that you won't believe you ever lived without!
