Someday When My Cat Can Talk

CAROLINE LAZO
ILLUSTRATED BY KYRSTEN BROOKER

THIS CHARMING, CHILD-CENTRIC book offers a glimpse into a cat's exciting "other" life. In a little girl's fantasy, her cat sneaks away, hops a ship, and sails off to Europe! And someday, when he can talk, he'll tell her all about the amazing things he discovered there . . . like whether or not British cats drink tea . . . and how he strutted down the runway in a Paris fashion show.

With facts about each place the cat visits included simply in the rhyming text, and in more detail at the end (including a map charting his route), this is sure to provide a great introduction to travel.

Caroline Lazo has written numerous biographies for children, including Alice Walker: Freedom Writer, which was a Society of School Librarians International (SSLI) Honor Book. This is her first picture book. She lives in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Kyrsten Brooker's wonderful books for children include Precious and the Boo Hag by Patricia C. McKissack, an ALA Notable Book and a School Library Book of the Year, and Nothing Ever Happens on 90th Street by Roni Schotter, a National Council of Teachers Notable Trade Book. She lives in Alberta, Canada.

An important and beautiful book about two iconic civil rights leaders.

by Richard Michelson • illustrated by Raul Colón

As Good as Anybody

RICHARD MICHELSON
 ILLUSTRATED BY RAUL COLÓN

MARTIN LUTHER KING, Jr. and Abraham Joshua Heschel. Their names stand for the quest for justice and equality.

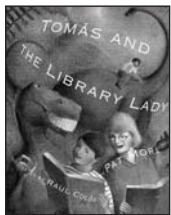

Martin grew up in a loving family in the American South, at a time when this country was plagued by racial discrimination. He aimed to put a stop to it. He became a minister like his daddy, and he preached and marched for his cause.

Abraham grew up in a loving family many years earlier, in a Europe that did not welcome Jews. He found a new home in America, where he became a respected rabbi like his father, carrying a message of peace and acceptance.

Here is the story of two icons for social justice, how they formed a remarkable friendship and turned their personal experiences of discrimination into a message of love and equality for all.

Richard Michelson is an award-winning poet and children's book author whose work has been praised by Elie Wiesel as "deeply moving." He lives in Northampton, Massachusetts.

Raul Colón is the recipient of both Gold and Silver Medals from the Society of Illustrators. He lives in New City, New York.

The Big Tidy-Up

A Golden Classic

NORAH SMARIDGE
ILLUSTRATED BY LES GRAY

JENNIFER KNEW, AS well as you

That everything has its place,

But she just didn't care a whit, a bit,

So her room was a real disgrace!

Jennifer's mother has refused to touch Jennifer's messy room until after Christmas Day. Free to let her room go, Jennifer turns a blind eye to the fustiness, the dustiness, and the spider's webby empire up in the corner! Finally, one day, she can stand her own mess no longer, and gets to work—on the big tidy-up!

Norah Smaridge wrote several books for Golden Books in the 1960s.

Les Gray has illustrated over 30 children's books. As an illustrator for Highlights for Children Magazine, he created a mouse named Link that appears in each issue. The illustrator lives in San Luis Obispo, California.

Veronica on Petunia's Farm

ROGER DUVOISIN

VERONICA, THE VERY conspicuous hippopotamus, is happy to move to Mr. Pumpkin's farm. There will be so many animals to gossip with! But the other animals do not return Veronica's hearty "Good morning!" And they say nasty things about her. Her feelings hurt, Veronica hides in the barn for a whole week—the animals spy on her as she wastes away and looks morose. Feeling guilty, the animals offer gifts to cheer her up, and when she finally joins them in the barnyard, they see the biggest smile ever on Veronica's face. First published in 1962, this sequel to Caldecott Medalist Duvoisin's Veronica captures with humor and an upbeat conclusion the real-life dynamics often faced by a new child in school.

"On the farm where everyone is mean to her, Veronica wastes away until each animal's timid gesture of friendship puts her back on her feet. Grand in meaning and illustration."—The New York Times Book Review

Roger Duvoisin wrote and illustrated 40 books, including those featuring the silly goose Petunia. He also illustrated the Happy Lion books, written by his wife, Louise Fatio, received the Caldecott Medal for his illustrations in White Snow, Bright Snow, and a Caldecott Honor for Hide and Seek Fog, both written by Alvin Tresselt. He died in 1980.

The beloved Dutch lullaby finds its perfect illustrator in Giselle Potter.

Wynken, Blynken, and Nod

EUGENE W. FIELD
 ILLUSTRATED BY GISELLE POTTER

WYNKEN, BLYNKEN AND Nod one night

Sailed off in a wooden shoe—

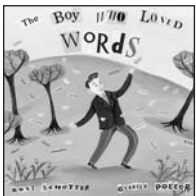

Sailed off on a river of crystal light

Into a sea of dew . . .

So begins Eugene Field's lovely bedtime poem, which tells of three wee fishermen who sail up to the stars, and a boy who imagines it all before he drifts off to sleep. Field's timeless text has lulled generations of little listeners into dreamland, and this version, complimented by Giselle Potter's magical illustrations, is perhaps the most enchanting—and the closest to Fields' own vision—of all.

Eugene Field (1850–1895) is best known for his children's poetry.

Giselle Potter is the illustrator of The Boy Who Loved Words by Roni Schotter, which received two starred reviews, The Littlest Grape Stomper by Alan Madison, and Kate and the Beanstalk (a Publishers Weekly and School Library Journal Best Book and ALA Notable Book). She lives in Kingston, New York.

An outrageous tall tale for cowpokes of all ages!

The Ballad of Wilbur and the Moose

JOHN STADLER

MEET WILBUR LITTLE, a lime-juice drinking, pint-sized, sombreroed cowboy who herds pigs for a living. Wilbur tackles the villains he meets in the forms of pig-rustlers and gamblers, along with his loyal companion, Alvin (who happens to be a big blue moose), an off-key singing piglet, and a book-loving pig from Yuma. Their hilarious antics and pell-mell are the norm in a wacky western world where creative problem-solving is needed for good to triumph over evil.

The Ballad of Wilbur and the Moose was originally published in a slightly different form in 1989 to wonderful acclaim by Publishers Weekly, People, and The New York Times Book Review Children's Bookshelf. John Stadler recently located all of the original artwork (as well as creating one all-new spread) so that this publisher could bring this book back to the full glory it deserves.

John Stadler is the author of almost 30 children's books, among them the recent Big & Little and the bestselling Hooray for Snail. Many of his titles have been selected by ALA Editor's Choice, the CBC's Children's Choice, and Reading Rainbow. He lives with his wife, Nomi, in New Hampshire.

My Baby and Me

LYNN REISER
PHOTOGRAPHY BY PENNY GENTIEU

A NATURAL FOLLOW-UP to parent-baby bonding seen in You and Me, Baby!, Lynn Reiser and Penny Gentieu's new concept book focuses on sibling bonding of the two-to-four year old with the new baby in the family. Told in the voice of the "big" brother or sister, close-up photos show the two siblings together doing what each does best, such as drinking from a bottle versus from a cup, or giving a toothless gummy smile versus a big toothy grin. It's a nice mix of diverse children of both genders. Here is an upbeat book that helps preschool siblings feel special and important as it promotes a loving relationship.

Lynn Reiser is the author of more than 20 picture books, including Play Ball with Me! and her acclaimed collaboration with Penny Gentieu, You and Me, Baby!, to be published in a board book edition this May. She lives in Hamden, Connecticut.

Penny Gentieu is one of the foremost photographers of babies and children in America. She is the author and photographer of three bestselling board books, Wow! Babies!, Baby! Talk!, and Grow! Babies! She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Celebrate the power of imagination with Peke!

Peg Leg Peke

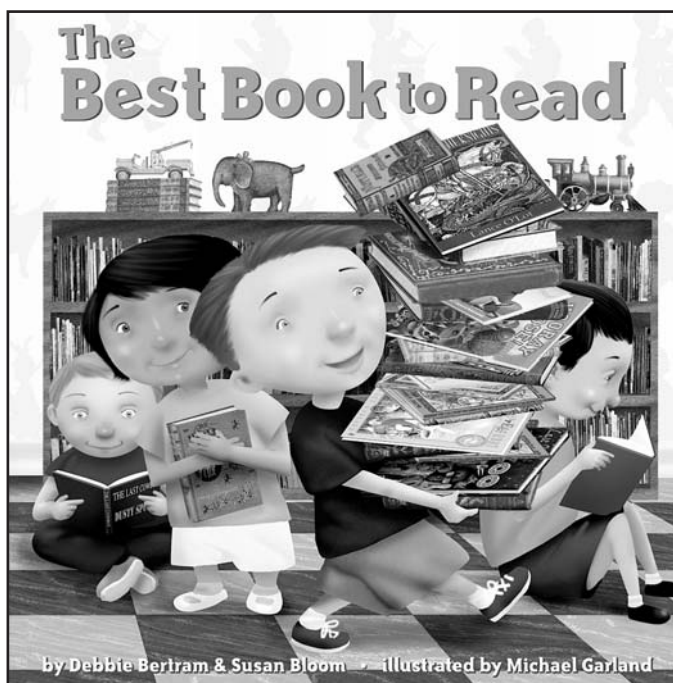

BRIE SPANGLER

PEKE, AN ADORABLE little Pekingese, has a boo-boo. But when he uses his imagination, he's no longer a pup with a broken leg, he's a pirate with a peg leg on the high seas! Can he find the buried treasure?

In her picture book debut, Brie Spangler celebrates the power of imagination and introduces a lovable Pekingese puppy who refuses to let his boo-boo keep him from having fun.

Brie Spangler is an author-illustrator originally from the Boston area. She loves clambakes, baseball, and her own little Pekingese, Lola. When not drawing pictures, she can be found avoiding direct sunlight, drinking too much coffee, and snuggling with her husband, Matt, in Brooklyn, New York.

John Patrick
Norman McHennessy—
the Boy Who Was Always Late

JOHN BURNINGHAM

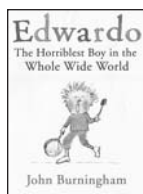

ONCE UPON A long time ago, John Patrick Norman McHennessy set off along the road to learn. Along the way, he had many seemingly outrageous encounters with crocodiles, lions, and tidal waves that always made him late for school. And that made his martinet of a teacher very angry. How John Patrick Norman McHennessy triumphs will delight anyone who follows his imagination and knows that learning is more than taking tests.

Turtle's Penguin Day

VALERI GORBACHEV

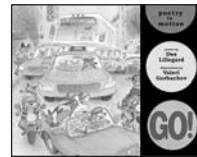

TURTLE IS SO excited by the book about penguins that his dad reads him at bedtime that he decides he wants to be a penguin. So the next morning, he creates a penguin costume, grabs his book, and heads for the schoolbus. His kindergarten classmates are thrilled. They all want to be penguins too!

Turtle shows his book to his teacher, and all day long he and his classmates do as the penguins do—they slide down the slide on their bellies during recess, form a waddling conga line at music time, and snack on goldfish crackers. It's a super-cool penguin day.

Turtle thinks he'd like to be a penguin every day. But, that night, his dad has a new book to read—and this one is all about monkeys!

This delightful picture book from Valeri Gorbachev celebrates both the power of books, and the joys of imaginative play in all its dress-up-box glory. And, with the extra penguin facts at the end of the book, this is a perfect blueprint for teachers planning penguin days of their own.

Valeri Gorbachev has both written and illustrated dozens of picture books in his long career. His most recent book for Knopf is Go! Poetry in Motion by Dee Lillegard. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Beastly Rhymes to Read After Dark

JUDY SIERRA
ILLUSTRATED BY BRIAN BIGGS

DANGER! WARNING! KIDS beware! Bound in the bilious green-spotted fur (100% fake) of an unidentified weird beast, here is a book that kids will love—quite literally—from cover to cover. In the macabre spirit of the Halloween season, funny rhymes range from “Parasite Lost” to “Leap Halloween,” and are illustrated with gruesome graphics. Elementary school kids will want to be the first to own this outrageous fur-clad book, but librarians may prefer the standard library bound edition, minus the fur!

Judy Sierra is the author of the New York Times #1 bestseller Wild About Books; Thelonius Monster’s Sky-High Fly Pie; Mind Your Manners, B. B. Wolf; and other award-winning picture books. Her collection of poems about penguins, Antarctic Antics, was a bestseller, and an earlier collection of scary poems, Monster Goose, a great favorite. She lives in Oakland, California.

Brian Biggs is the illustrator of the middle-grade Shredderman series by Wendelin Van Draanen and One Beastly Beast by Garth Nix. He lives in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Busy bodies are built to move!

The Busy Body Book

LIZZY ROCKWELL

YOUR AMAZING BODY can jump, sprint, twist, and twirl. Your body is built to move!

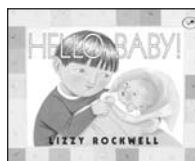

Lizzy Rockwell explains how your bones and muscles, heart and lungs, nerves and brain all work together to keep you on the go. Kids walk, skate, and tumble through these pages with such exuberance that even couch potatoes will want to get up and bounce around—and that's the ultimate goal. Studies show that American kids are becoming more sedentary and more overweight and that they carry these tendencies with them into adolescence and adulthood. Through education, information, and encouragement, this book aims to inspire a new generation of busy bodies!

"Few accessible books are available on the topic of sedentary children. This one will make even the youngest of readers want to get busy."

—Colorado Parent

"Preschoolers through age 8 will be fascinated with the scientific facts and illustrations." —Rutherford Parent

Lizzy Rockwell is the author-illustrator of both Hello Baby! and Good Enough to Eat: A Kid's Guide to Food and Nutrition. She lives in Norwalk, Connecticut.

10 Trick-or-Treaters

A Halloween Counting Book

JANET SCHULMAN
ILLUSTRATED BY LINDA DAVICK

“THIS COUNTDOWN BOOK begins with a cheery band of 10 masked and costumed children leaving an apartment building to begin their night of fun. As they board a bus to go to a party and trick-or-treat from house to house, their number slowly diminishes as each successive child is frightened off by costumed vampires, mummies, a frog, a bat, and other spooky creatures. The last brave child returns to her apartment, climbs happily into bed, and then there were none. The book ends with a yummy array of different types of candy that kids will enjoy counting. Schulman’s rhythmic text will be enjoyed as a read-aloud as well as by beginning readers. Davick’s vibrant graphic art is chockablock with shapes and angles that keep the mood light and the creatures and costumed monsters more fun than frightening. A not-too-scary treat for the youngest Halloween fans.”—School Library Journal

Janet Schulman has worked in children’s publishing for over 40 years. Her favorite Halloween candy is Good & Plenty.

Linda Davick loves to draw and eat candy at the same time.

You and Me, Baby

LYNN REISER

PHOTOGRAPHY BY PENNY GENTIEU

“THE SIMPLE INTERACTIONS between baby and mommy or daddy are the focus of Gentieu’s marvelous photos and Reiser’s repetitive text. The duo explores the bond that forms between baby and caregiver as they imitate each other, the simplest form of communication. . . . Gentieu’s photographs make this a selection perfect for any new parent or library that caters to them. . . . As most know, babies love looking at babies, so the question is: ‘Where’s the board book?’”—Kirkus Reviews

The answer to that question: “Here it is!”

Lynn Reiser, a Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Yale University, is the author and illustrator of more than 20 picture books, including Play Ball with Me and My Way/mi manera, a Margaret and Margarita story in English and Spanish. She lives in Hamden, Connecticut.

Penny Gentieu is one of the foremost photographers of babies working today. She is the author and photographer of three board books for babies, Wow! Babies!, Baby! Talk!, and Grow! Babies!. She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Haiku Baby

BETSY SNYDER

IN TICKLY-TOE GRASS

yellow kisses.

The simple delights in baby's natural world—a bird, a fish, a leaf, a snowflake, a raindrop—are celebrated in the traditional Japanese poetic form, the haiku. This peaceful little board book has tabs to encourage little hands to turn the pages and adorable artwork to delight everyone!

Betsy Snyder is a seasoned illustrator-designer of children's greeting cards, and has contributed art to children's educational publishers. She has been fascinated by nature since she was young. She lives near Cleveland, Ohio with her husband, a bunny named Lu-Lu, and an old black dog named Hank. Read more about her at www.paintedwords.com/2007biopages/Betsy2007.htm.

Who will win the Great Fairy Race? Find out in this Step 3 reader, featuring the beloved Disney Fairies.

Silvermist the water-talent fairy doesn't believe in bad luck . . . or does she?

Silvermist and the Ladybug Curse

A Stepping Stone Book™

NOTHING RATTLES SILVERMIST. She's the calmest water-talent fairy around, and as cool as a deep mountain lake. But then an "unlucky" white ladybug lands on Silvermist's head, and her orderly world goes topsy-turvy. She's never been the type of fairy to lose things or have accidents or make mistakes . . . until now. Silvermist doesn't believe in bad luck and silly old fairy superstitions. But all her troubles began after she found the white ladybug. Could the other fairies be right? Is Silvermist really under a curse?

"These books are classic Disney with little bits of wisdom wrapped around entertaining adventures. Any fan of Disney or just good stories should check out the Disney Fairies series."—Texas Daily Register

Elmo's World: Doctors!

ELMO AND HIS friends, Dr. Lana, Nurse Nick, and Nurse Christy, show kids how doctors and nurses take care of kids in the doctor's office, a hospital, and in school. Sesame Beginnings: Bath Time!

IT'S BATH TIME on Sesame Street and the Sesame Street babies show toddlers what they do in the tub. THE REVEREND W. AWDRY

SMALL ENGINES, medium-sized engines, and large engines—everyone has problems with those Troublesome Trucks. But there are cranes of all sizes, too, and they are always ready and able to be Really Useful and help out!

In the early 1940s, a loving father crafted a small, blue, wooden engine for his son, Christopher. The stories that this father, the Reverend W. Awdry, made up to accompany this wonderful toy, were first published in 1945. He retired from writing in 1992. Reverend Awdry died in 1997 at age 85.

The true story of the discovery of the world's most popular dinosaur carnivore!

Finding the First T. Rex

A Stepping Stone Book™

KATHLEEN WEIDNER ZOEHFELD
ILLUSTRATED BY JIM NELSON

IN 1902, WILLIAM HORNADAY handed a map to the famous paleontologist Barnum Brown. It was Hornaday's hand-drawn directions to a remote area of the Montana Badlands, where he believed amazing dinosaur fossils lay buried. Following the map, Brown dug up a jawbone edged with six-inch long teeth, the remains of a monstrous creature no one had ever seen before. But one bone wasn't enough, and Brown soon found himself in a desperate race to discover the skeleton of the mystery carnivore!

Besides her Stepping Stones, Fossil Fever and The Curse of King Tut's Mummy, Kathleen Weidner Zoehfeld has also written Wild Lives: A History of the People & Animals of the Bronx Zoo. Her book, Dinosaur Parents, Dinosaur Young, was voted an Outstanding Science Trade Book for K–12 by the CBC and NSTA and was an ALA Notable book. She lives in Berkeley, California.

Meticulous in his research and with a discerning eye for historical detail, Jim Nelson is also the illustrator of The Curse of King Tut's Mummy.

"Not a traditional ghost story but a story with a ghost in it, this short accessible chapter book depicts characters with swift, sure strokes and places them in an intriguing situation."—Booklist

"Like The Blue Ghost, Bauer's latest is a well-written beginning chapter book with plenty of suspense and mystery to keep young readers turning pages. . . . There is also a valuable message woven into the tale."—Kirkus Reviews

Marion Dane Bauer is the author of more than 60 books for children, including the Newbery Honor-winning book On My Honor. The Blue Ghost, which was named to the Texas Bluebonnet Award Master List, was her first Stepping Stones book. She lives in Eden Prairie, Minnesota.

Honey Cake

A Stepping Stone Book™

JOAN BETTY STUCHNER
ILLUSTRATED BY CYNTHIA NUGENT

FOR DAVID NATHAN, Copenhagen is the most beautiful city in the world. Even Nazis in the street can't make Copenhagen ugly. But life has changed since the soldiers arrived. His parents are always worried. And his older sister goes to school early and comes home late. Sometimes she doesn't come home at all! David's father is a baker, and since the war began, butter and cream are very hard to find. So David is amazed when his father makes a "special order" of cream-filled chocolate eclairs. But when no one comes to pick up the eclairs, David is asked to run a very special errand. It's an errand that will change his life . . . forever. Joan Betty Stuchner's early chapter book brings an important time period to light in a way that is thrilling, inspirational, and age-appropriate for Stepping Stone readers.

Joan Betty Stuchner has performed as a storyteller live and on television, and acted in community theater. She teaches part-time at a Jewish school and works in the library at the University of British Columbia. Honey Cake is her fourth book.

All Shook Up

SHELLEY PEARSALL

WHEN 13-YEAR-OLD JOSH finds out he has to stay with his dad in Chicago for a few months, he's not too thrilled. But when he arrives at the airport, he's simply devastated. His father—who used to be a scatterbrained, but pretty normal, shoe salesman—has become a sideburn-wearing, hip-twisting, utterly embarrassing Elvis impersonator.

Josh is determined to keep his dad's identity a secret, but on his very first day at his new school, a note appears on his locker. It's signed Elvisly Yours, and instead of a name, a sneering purple smiley face. The secret is out, and when his dad is invited to perform at a special 50s concert at his school, Josh is forced to take drastic action. From award-winning author Shelley Pearsall comes a hilarious novel about a father and son discovering something about being who you are—and who you're not.

A former teacher and museum historian, Shelley Pearsall is now a full-time writer. Her first novel, Trouble Don't Last, won the Scott O'Dell Award for Historical Fiction. To learn more about the author and her work, visit www.shelleypearsall.com. She lives in Silver Lake, Ohio.

JUDY BLUME

THE PAIN AND the Great One hardly agree on anything. But deep down, they know they can count on each other, especially at school, where it often takes two to figure things out. Like when that first baby tooth falls out on the school bus. Or when an unwanted visitor on Bring Your Pet to School Day needs to be caught. Or worst of all, when a scary bully says you're burnt toast. On days like these it can feel good not to go it alone. (And don't forget Fluzzy the cat, who knows a thing or two himself.)

Judy Blume's 26 books have won many awards. She lives in Key West, Florida, and New York City.

James Stevenson has written and illustrated more than a hundred books for children.

Fortune's Fool

KATHLEEN KARR

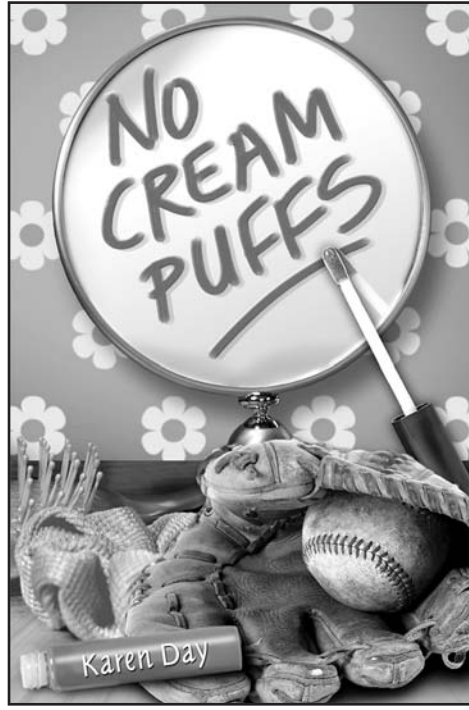

CONRAD THE GOOD serves as court jester to a most unworthy master: Lord Otto “the Witless,” who rarely appreciates jesting and acrobatics and more often rewards his good fool with a good whipping. So one night, Conrad flees, leaving Otto’s realm in search of a more enlightened master—taking with him only his noble horse, Blackspur, and his beloved, the servant girl Christa the Fair.

As they take to the road, they soon learn that along with their quest comes hardship. But for all the hardships they encounter, there are as many unexpected joys and friends in unexpected places, and there is always their love for one another. And always, their destination lies before them: somewhere, a sanctuary where they’ll have the freedom to be together and be themselves.

Kathleen Karr is the author of many acclaimed novels for young readers, including Exiled: Memoirs of a Camel, Gilbert and Sullivan: Set Me Free, Born for Adventure, and Skullduggery. She lives in Washington, D.C.

KAREN DAY

MADISON IS NOT your average 12-year-old girl from Michigan in 1980. She doesn't use lipgloss, but she loves to play sports, and joins baseball for the summer—the first girl in Southern Michigan to play on a boys' team. The press calls her a star and a trailblazer, but Madison just wants to play ball.

Who knew it would be so much pressure? Crowds flock to the games. Her team will win the championship—if she can keep up her pitching streak. Meanwhile, she's got a crush on a fellow player, her best friend abandons her for the popular girls, the "O" on her Hinton's uniform forms a bulls-eye over her left breast, and the boy she punched on the last day of school plans to bean her in the championship game.

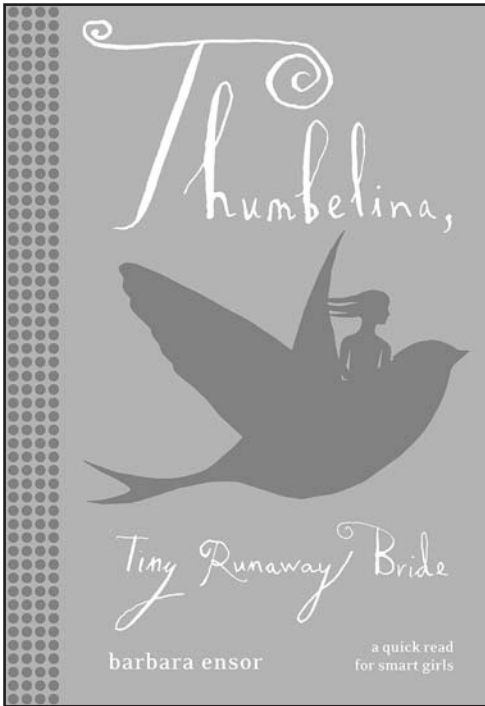

Karen Day grew up in Indiana and now lives in Newton, Massachusetts, with her husband and three children. Her love of reading, writing, and literature has taken her through careers in journalism and teaching. She is the author of Tall Tales. You can reach her at: www.klday.com.

Thumbelina, Tiny Runaway Bride

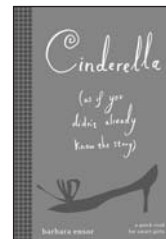

REVAMPED BY BARBARA ENSOR

HERE'S A CONTEMPORARY retelling of Andersen's tale, revamped and fleshed out for today's hip tweens. As she did in Cinderella (As If You Didn't Already Know the Tale), Ensor re-imagines this classic, adding her own inimitable humor, flair, and stylish black-and-white silhouette spot illustrations.

Thumbelina is that story most of us can't quite remember. Okay, sure, it's about a tiny girl just the size of your thumb. But did you know that her troubles (or adventures, if you prefer) begin when she begs her mother to let her sleep outside on the porch? And that in no time she is engaged to a frog, and then a mole, and even receives a proposal from a miniature king?

Hans Christian Andersen (1805–1875), the Danish author and poet, is most famous for his beloved fairy tales such as The Little Mermaid, The Snow Queen, and Thumbelina.

Barbara Ensor is the author-illustrator of Cinderella (As If You Didn't Already Know the Story), hailed in the New York Times as “truly divine.” She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Do you believe in the Man in the Moon?

Man in the Moon

DOTTI ENDERLE

JANINE IS PREPARED for a sticky, boring summer on her family's land in the middle of nowhere. Far from town and with only her ailing brother Ricky for company, Janine spends half her time stuck inside with him, wishing that their mother would let them out to play. But when Mr. Lunas—a mysterious man who saved Janine's father's life in the war—arrives through the cornfields, strange things begin happening. Ricky sets his heart on building a go-cart. Mr. Lunas eats them out of house and home, then suddenly stops eating at all. And then Ricky's health takes a turn for the worse, and it looks like Janine's world is about to spin out of control. Janine's overprotective mom locks Ricky in his bedroom with her, and Janine is desperate to find a way to say goodbye. In the end, it's Mr. Lunas who comes to her rescue, encouraging her to break Ricky free—and then giving them both an enormous gift. Thought-provoking and gracefully written, this short literary novel is a small gem.

Dotti Enderle is the author of numerous books for children and educators, including the Fortune Tellers Club Series. She lives in Houston, Texas.

As Scooter sets out to unmask the killer, the mysterious worlds of mediums, séances, and magic are revealed. No one is above suspicion, and appearances are deceiving. If Scooter doesn't sort out the clues—and fast—he may end up as the next dead body.

She personally sees to it that Heck—whether it be home-ec class with Lizzie Borden, ethics with Richard Nixon, or gym with Blackbeard the Pirate—is especially, well, heckish for the Fausters. Will Milton and Marlo find a way to escape? Or are they stuck here for all eternity, or until they turn 18, whichever comes first?

Trophy Kid

Or How I Was Adopted by the Rich and Famous

STEVE ATINSKY

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD Joe is the ultimate trophy kid. His adoptive parents are Hollywood's favorite power couple, Academy Award-winning actress Greta Powell and actor/director/political candidate Robert Francis. Life with them has been one big photo-op since Joe became a war orphan at the ripe old age of three. And what better way for Greta and Robert to celebrate how far Joe's come—and how much they've helped him—than for Joe to describe his experiences in a moving autobiography?

Of course, Greta and Robert don't actually intend for Joe to write the book himself. Or for him to include any unflattering details about them. That's why they've hired an experienced professional for the job. But Tom Dolan is no ordinary writer, and he's determined to help Joe tell the real story of growing up with the two most famous celebrities in America. Even if it means going back to Joe's homeland, with his image-conscious parents in tow. . . .

Steve Atinsky has written for the CBS sitcom Payne and Disney's The Weekenders. He is also the author of Tyler on Prime Time. He lives in Santa Monica, California.

Out of Patience

BRIAN MEEHL

JAKE'S MORTIFIED BY his dad's dream to open the American Toilet Museum. Toilets have caused enough turmoil in Patience, Kansas. Patience has been cursed for 129 years, since Jeremiah Waters installed the first flush toilet. The Dolphin Deluge Wash-Down Water Closet caused a stink, and since then Patience has been drying up like a cow pie in August. Jake wants out of Patience, especially when his dad gets a relic for his museum, triggering the curse's last promise: "The day the Plunger of Destiny returns to Patience, the final destruction begins!" Can Jake save Patience by discovering what happened when Jeremiah last sat on the Dolphin Deluge Wash-Down Water Closet?

"Includes well-drawn characters, page-turning action, and lively prose peppered with dry humor and potty history."—The Bulletin, Recommended

"Featuring likeably human main characters, a colorful supporting cast, memorably off-beat set pieces and a credible small-town atmosphere, this debut should leave plenty of readers flushed with laughter."—Kirkus Reviews

Moxy Maxwell Does Not Love Stuart Little

PEGGY GIFFORD

★ “WITH ITS BRILLIANTLY accessible application of a usually complex narrative technique, this work represents a significant raising of the bar for writers of chapter books. Technique or no technique, kids will recognize Moxy—and they will love her.”—Kirkus Reviews, Starred

“Gifford’s depiction of an overly exuberant nine-year-old may remind some readers of Lois Lowry’s Gooney Bird Greene.”—School Library Journal

“The short, sassy chapters have an immediacy that may have readers wrenching their hands as the clock ticks down.”—Booklist

Peggy Gifford’s original plan was to become a famous (but really nice) actress. But after touring Ohio as Winnie the Pooh, she decided to become a writer instead. She holds an MFA from the Iowa Writer’s Workshop, and her work has appeared in the Iowa Review, The Antioch Review, and women’s magazines like Redbook and Cosmopolitan. She lives in New York, New York, and Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

LINDA SUE PARK

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD KEVIN, A Korean American math whiz, is shocked beyond belief when a young man, complete with bow and arrows, crash lands in his bedroom. And that's just the beginning. The man, called Skillful Archer, claims to be a legendary ruler from ancient Korea. While Kevin tries explaining contemporary life to the man he nicknames Archie, the young ruler teaches Kevin about focusing his thoughts in an attempt to help him return to his kingdom. There's not a moment to lose as Kevin uses Korean history and folktales, math, and the Chinese Zodiac to help his friend travel back through time before the Year of the Tiger ends. If Archie can't get home, history will be forever changed.

Linda Sue Park is the author of A Single Shard, winner of the Newbery Award. She has also written Project Mulberry, When My Name Was Keoko, The Kite Fighters, and Seesaw Girl. She lives with her family in Rochester, New York.

A Dog Called Grk

JOSHUA DODER

WHEN A DOG follows Tim home from school, he's determined to find out who the friendly stray belongs to. But after a little detective work, Tim discovers that Grk's owners don't live in his town, or even his country. Max and Natascha Raffifi have been kidnapped, and their parents imprisoned by an evil dictator. Before he knows it, Tim is off on a mission his parents wouldn't approve of. He sneaks out in the middle of the night and catches a plane to Stanislavia. To save the Raffifis, Tim will have to break into a high-security prison, pilot a helicopter, and make a nail-biting run for the border. And his only ally is a brave little dog called Grk.

“Lightly comic and cinematically adventurous, the plot zips along nicely.”

—Kirkus Reviews

“This first entry in the series crackles with Doder's crisp prose and absurdist sensibility.”—Time Out New York Kids

When he isn't traveling the world, writing about Grk, Joshua Doder is a reporter for The Guardian. He lives in London.

The Edge Chronicles 1: Beyond the Deepwoods

PAUL STEWART AND CHRIS RIDDELL

IN THIS FIRST book of the “Twig trilogy,” we meet Twig, who was abandoned at birth and raised by a family of woodtrolls. When the boy discovers one night that he’s not, as he’s always believed, a woodtroll himself, he sets off to find his true identity in the mysterious, fascinating, and sometimes dangerous, world beyond the Deepwoods. Always watching out for the horrible Gloamglozer, the terrifying creature who haunts the thoughts of all the inhabitants of the Edge, plucky Twig steadfastly pursues his quest and discovers his roots, not among the trees, but in the skies!

The Edge Chronicles 2: Stormchaser

IN THIS SECOND book of the “Twig trilogy,” we find our hero working as a crew-member on his father’s ship, the Stormchaser. Twig’s dreams of exploring the sky seem fulfilled, but a much higher destiny awaits him as plots and treacheries from many years ago bring the lofty city of Sanctaphrax—home of the Edgeworld’s most learned academics—to the point of disaster.

The Edge Chronicles 3: Midnight over Sanctaphrax

IN THE THIRD book of the “Twig trilogy,” the world of the Edge is threatened again as, high above it, the Mother Storm brews. Sweeping in from the open sky, it must strike the source of the Edgewater River to bring new energy to the land. But in its way is Sanctaphrax. Only one person can save the Edgelands from certain disaster: Twig. To recover his memory and take action, Twig must find his lost crew. And this means a journey back into the Deepwoods—and beyond . . .

Paul Stewart is a highly regarded author of books for young readers, most notably the bestselling Edge Chronicles and the Far-Flung Adventures. He lives in Brighton, England.

THE PAPERS CALL Maude notorious and wild. But 12-year old Sallie March knows her big sister didn't do all the things the stories say . . . not on purpose, anyway. In fact, she and Maude have made a fresh start and are trying to live on the up and up. Maude's even started wearing skirts again! But just when the girls are settling into their new life, Maude (aka "Mad Maude," if you believe the papers) is arrested, and before you can say "jailbreak," the orphaned sisters are back on the run!

"Old-fashioned storytelling, humor, rollicking adventure, and heroines to root for. A natural for reading aloud."—Kirkus Reviews

"Descriptive details . . . are woven seamlessly into the lively story and provide a real flavor for the Old West and life on the trail."

The Skirt

GARY SOTO

THE SKIRT IS gone. Miata Ramirez is scared and upset. She brought her forklorico skirt to show off at school and left it on the bus. It's not just any skirt. This skirt belonged to Miata's mother when she was a child in Mexico. On Sunday, Miata and her dance group are going to dance forklorico. It's Friday afternoon. Miata doesn't want her parents to know she's lost something again. Can she find a way to rescue the precious skirt in time?

“Light, easy reading . . . offering readers a cast and situations with which to identify, whatever their own ethnic origins.”—The Bulletin

“A light, engaging narrative that successfully combines information on Hispanic culture with familiar and recognizable childhood themes.”

A futuristic Arthurian fantasy!

Tomorrow's Magic

PAMELA F. SERVICE

IT IS 500 YEARS in the future, after the nuclear holocaust that devastated the earth's population left the few survivors dealing with unending winter. At their remote British boarding school, Wellington Jones and Heather McKenna have a lot in common. Both are misfits trying to avoid attention, and both are fascinated by Earl, a tall, calm, older boy with no recollection of his past, but a remarkable knack for showing up when he is needed most.

When a blow to the head brings Earl's memory back, he is full of wild ideas about King Arthur, the sorceress Morgan LeFay, and broad claims that he, himself, 14-year-old Earl, is actually Merlin . . . a 2,000-year-old wizard.

Originally published in the mid-1980s, Pamela F. Service's creative, futuristic spin on the Camelot legend will appeal to Arthurian purists and fantasy lovers alike.

Pamela Service grew up in Berkeley, California, and spent three years in England studying archaeology. Now back in California, she has published over 20 children's books, works as a museum director in Eureka, acts in community theater, and is still writing.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD Anne Shirley has never known a real home. Since her parents' deaths, she's bounced around to foster homes and orphanages. When she is sent by mistake to live with Matthew and Marilla Cuthbert at the snug white farmhouse called Green Gables, she wants to stay forever. But Anne is not the sturdy boy Matthew and Marilla were expecting. She's a mischievous, talkative redheaded girl with a fierce temper, who tumbles into one scrape after another. Anne is not like anybody else, the Cuthberts agree; she is special, a girl with an enormous imagination. All she's ever wanted is to belong somewhere. And the longer she stays at Green Gables, the harder it is for anyone to imagine life without her.

Lucy Maud Montgomery was born in Clifton, Prince Edward Island, in 1874. Her first novel, Anne of Green Gables, met with immediate critical and popular acclaim, and its success, both national and international, led to seven sequels. She died in Toronto in 1942.

WHEN MAX ANNOUNCES that Pine Hollow will begin its own Pony Club, Stevie, Carole, and Lisa are excited to know they're about to become even more knowledgeable about horses. But spoiled Veronica is more focused on riding her new horse than learning how to take care of him. The Saddle Club won't soon forget what happened with Veronica's last horse, Cobalt. And when it looks like she's headed for the same trouble again, the girls are quick to act—but are they already too late?

Bonnie Bryant is the author of nearly a hundred books about horses, including the Saddle Club series, Saddle Club Super Editions, and the Pony Tales series.

Saddle up with the girls of Pine Hollow!

The Saddle Club®:
Rodeo Rider

BONNIE BRYANT

STEVIE, CAROLE, AND Lisa are off to Texas to visit their friend Kate Devine at her family's ranch—the Bar None. It's the perfect time to visit, since the annual rodeo has come to town! The girls decide they don't want to just watch the wranglers compete; they're going to enter the competition too. And they need every minute to practice if they're going to go up against real cowboys. But when they realize someone's trying to sabotage the Bar None competitors, the girls' real work begins. And it's just the kind of work the Saddle Club is made for.

Leap

JANE BRESKIN ZALBEN

DANIEL SAYS: LIFE caused me to grow up fast. Real fast. Like overnight.

Daniel and Krista used to be inseparable. Now that they're older, they've drifted apart—but when an accident leaves Daniel temporarily paralyzed, he needs his old friend more than ever.

"Sensitively wrought novel about growing pains . . . Eloquently expressing the power of hope and friendship, this story delivers an inspiring message."

Darnell Rock Reporting

WALTER DEAN MYERS

DARNELL ROCK IS not the kind of kid who volunteers to write for the newspaper—it sounds too much like homework. But this is Darnell's last chance to pull himself together and make a positive contribution to his school. At first, Darnell would rather be hanging out with his sister and his friends. But soon he gets interested in the Oakdale Gazette. Much to his surprise, Darnell discovers that people pay attention to the words he writes. Before he knows it, Darnell changes from a kid who can't do anything right to a person who can make a difference.

"This is an energetic read, unintimidating but thoughtful, that many Darnell-age kids in search of self will find rewarding."—The Bulletin

Will T. J. and Mop's greatest wishes come true?

Me, Mop, and the Moondance Kid

WALTER DEAN MYERS

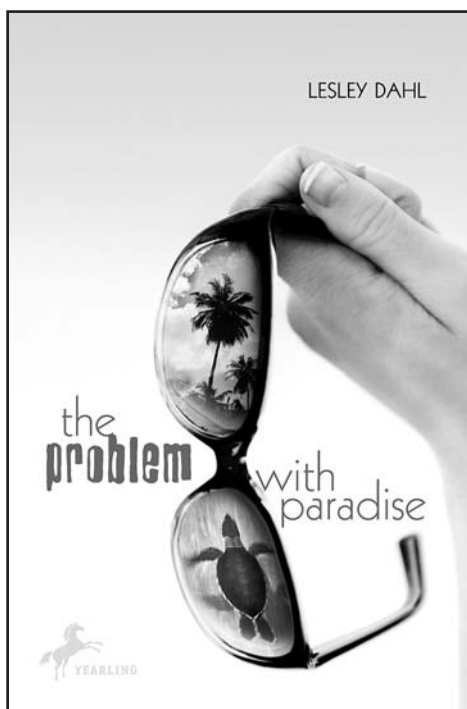

T. J., HIS YOUNGER brother, Moondance, and Mop—Miss Olivia Parrish—grew up together in the same orphanage. Now T. J. and Moondance have been adopted, and Mop has to find a family before the orphanage closes and the “leftover” kids are sent away. Mop hopes that if she can play catcher for the Elks, the coach will adopt her. T. J.’s problem with the Elks is that little Moondance is a better ballplayer than he is.

What will T. J.’s adoptive father think—that he can’t hit, throw, or catch a ball? Will T. J. and Mop’s greatest wishes come true? It’s going to take a lot of teamwork!

“An easygoing, first-person narrative . . . even the secondary characters are solidly developed—a likeable crew.”—The Bulletin

The Problem with Paradise

LESLEY DAHL

NOBODY GETS WHY Casey's upset. She's just been informed that she's spending the entire summer on some deserted tropical island with her father, his new wife, and her two brothers. Casey's sure she will die of boredom while dreaming of all the fun she could have been having with her friends back home. But Tartuga turns out to have its charms—particularly a cute boy named Jonah. And spending so much time away from cell phones and emails gives Casey the unexpected chance to listen to herself. But when a tropical storm bears down on Tartuga and Casey's father can't make it back in time, will Casey be able to pull it together and save Paradise for all of them?

"This exciting coming-of-age story has danger, mystery, and romance. It moves quickly and will keep readers engaged."—School Library Journal

EVER SINCE EMPEROR Flood drowned their kingdom and overthrew their parents, Asa and Rollo have been hiding out in Two Hills Keep. Then a mysterious stranger tells them their baby sister wasn't killed along with their mother and father. Instead, she was kidnapped by Flood's half-sister and secreted away in a castle to the north. If Una is still alive, there's only one thing for Asa and Rollo to do. They must take Northseeker, an invisible ship built of mist and shadows, and cross the danger-filled sunken kingdom.

The Sunken Kingdom #2: Tide Stealers

AFTER RESCUING UNA from the witch princess, Asa and Rollo are once again safe in Two Hills Keep. Asa is curious about the Moonstone Star and its magic, which she inherited when her mother was murdered. But when Asa tries her hand at her first spell, a band of underwater pirates called Tide Stealers appears and steals the jewel away! In order to get it back, Asa and Rollo must face malevolent ghosts, nasty sea giants, and one particular Tide Stealer who may hold secrets about their past.

The Sunken Kingdom #3: Sorcerer of the Waves

FOR OVER A year, Asa and Rollo have believed that their parents were dead. Then they overhear a conversation between their aunt and their friend, Skalti, and they aren't so sure anymore. A sorcerer named Ragni may know what happened to their parents, but Ragni is Flood's prisoner. Asa and Rollo set off on a dangerous trip to question the sorcerer. Nothing will stop them from finding out the truth about their parents!

WHAT'S SCARIER THAN the Sassafras Siblings and Rot-Toothed Hopping Monkey Demons? The answer, my friends, is old people. And Billy is forced to face his fears when his family picks up his Great-Aunt Tilley at Shady Acres to bring her home for the long weekend.

Meanwhile, in Monstros City, a mysterious villain unleashes a legendarily destructive monster: the enormous Zis-Boom-Bah. Zis-Boom-Bah has the inhabitants of Monstros so riled up that the military wants to use the OMG (“oh my gosh!”) device, which will destroy Zis-Boom-Bah, but take half of Monstros with him. But Billy has a revolutionary idea . . . which leads him to a realization about the scariest Old Person at Shady Acres . . .

Emma Freeman is New York's newest summer intern. Can she handle it?

Hot Mess

Summer in the City

JULIE KRAUT AND SHALLON LESTER

EMMA FREEMAN IS waving buh-bye to her standard summer of station-wagoning around the suburbs. This summer she's heading to the big city. Emma's totally prepped for days at a fabulous internship and nights of socialite-ing around town. But when you're 17 and not an heiress, reality is far from pink fizzy drinks and red velvet ropes. As the summer heats up, Emma learns that glamour is hard to come by when your only friend is too boy-crazy to hang, your budget is more H&M than D&G, and you spend 8 hours a day working for a man who proves that the devil wears Dockers too.

Add one little white lie told to one very hot coworker and a roommate who makes Paris Hilton look junior varsity, and this summer in the city is starting to turn into one hot mess.

Julie Kraut lives in New York City, where she shimmyes her sensible pumps up the corporate ladder, eats pizza, and writes. This is her first book for young readers.

Shallon Lester moved across the country to write and add to her shoe collection. This is her first book for young readers. She lives in Manhattan.

All Night Long
 A Nannies Novel

MELODY MAYER

LYDIA KNOWS SHE blew it big-time with Billy, and winning him back is her numero uno priority before her endless L.A. summer finally does come to an end.

Esme can't believe that a chica from Echo Park is going to spend senior year at über-wealthy Bel Air High, let alone that she'll have her two best friends with her. Except there's one tiny problem: the girl Esme was eager to help is slowly stealing Esme's life. . . .

Kiley doesn't know what she'd do without Tom to lean on. Not only is she trying to work through her panic attacks, but she's also been thrust into the national spotlight at the trial of Platinum. So with all that's going on, why can't Kiley get the guy she met at the all-night party out of her head?

Raised in Bel Air, Melody Mayer is the eldest daughter of a fourth generation Hollywood family and has outlasted countless nannies. She lives in Los Angeles, California.

What kind of damage can a tattoo do?

Poison Ink

CHRISTOPHER GOLDEN

SAMMI, TQ, CARYN, Letty, and Katsuko are floaters. None of them fits in with any particular group at Covington High School—except each other. One night, to cement their bond, the girls decide to get matching, unique tattoos. But when Sammi backs out at the last minute, everything changes. Faster than you can say “airbrush,” Sammi is an outcast, and soon, her friends are behaving like total strangers. When they attack Sammi for trying to break up a brawl, Sammi spies something horrible on her friends’ backs: the original tattoo has grown tendrils, snaking and curling over the girls’ entire bodies. What has that creepy tattoo artist done to her friends? And what—if anything—can Sammi do to get them back?

This deliciously creepy psychological thriller is the perfect summer read.

Chris Golden is the award-winning, bestselling author of the Body of Evidence and Prowlers series of teen thrillers. There are more than 8 million copies of his books in print. He lives with his family in Massachusetts.

Does the perfect kiss exist? Enquiring lips want to know!

Confessions of a Serial Kisser

WENDELIN VAN DRAANEN

EVANGELINE LOGAN WANTS a kiss. A spectacular, heart-stopping, life-changing kiss. Somehow The Crimson Kiss (a romance novel she's become obsessed with) and Four Steps to Living Your Fantasy (a self-help book she's reading) have fused in Evangeline's mind and sent her on a quest for a kiss.

But the path to perfection is paved with many bad kisses—the smash mouth, the ear licker, the “misser.” The phrase “I don't kiss and tell” means nothing to the boys in her school. And worse: someone starts writing her name and number on bathroom walls. And worst of all: the boy she's just kissed turns out to be her best friend's new crush. Kissing turns out to be way more complicated than the romance novels would have you believe . . .

Wendelin Van Draanen has been everything from a forklift driver to a high school teacher, but is now enjoying life as a full-time writer. She lives in Central California with her husband and two sons.

A searing novel about what it means to hold someone else's heart in your hands.

Alfred A. Knopf

The Day I Killed James

CATHERINE RYAN HYDE

IT WASN'T SUPPOSED to end up like this. But it did.

When Theresa brings James to a party as her date, it's just for the night . . . and he knows that. But when everything goes horribly wrong, James drives his motorcycle off a cliff—and Theresa knows she's responsible for his death.

Theresa tries to run away from the pain, becoming a new young woman with a whole new life. She meets people, of course, but she never really makes connections—she's too scared she'll hurt them, too. But what Theresa discovers is that you can try to run away from the pain—but you can never really run away from yourself. The only way out is through.

This compelling tale of love and loss is about broken hearts—and how to begin to repair your own.

Catherine Ryan Hyde is the author of Becoming Chloe, The Year of My Miraculous Reappearance, the national bestseller Pay It Forward, and Love in the Present Tense, among many other books. She lives in California.

MALLORY IS A teenage girl living in L.A. and her mother is the oft-nominated, never-winning star of a daytime soap; she is, in fact, the ultimate drama queen. After yet another blow-out about her mother's awful plotlines and overacting, Mallory starts blogging about how she wishes soap operas were more like real kids' lives instead of the ridiculous storylines the shows usually feature.

When her mother's agent reads the blog, Mallory ends up in her own whirlwind drama, both at school and on the lot, as she works to protect the integrity of her original idea, cope with her mother's jealousy, and get her best friend a lead role on the show. Factor in her boyfriend with the girlfriend, the cute but bad brother to said-best-friend, and the super-cute male lead on her show, and Mallory's got plenty of her own melodrama to cope with.

David Van Etten is actually three writers: Chris Van Etten is currently a full-time writer for ABC's One Life to Live; David Ozanich is a freelance writer and playwright; and David Levithan is the author of Boy Meets Boy, and many other young adult novels for Knopf.

Alfred A. Knopf

A mind-blowing YA from a debut author.

Madapple

CHRISTINA MELDRUM

THE SECRETS OF the past meet the shocks of the present.

Aslaug is an unusual young woman. Her mother has brought her up in near isolation, teaching her about plants and nature and language—but not about life. Especially not how she came to have her own life, and who her father might be.

When Aslaug's mother dies unexpectedly, everything changes. For Aslaug is a suspect in her mother's death. And the more her story unravels, the more questions unfold. About the nature of Aslaug's birth. About what she should do next. About whether divine miracles have truly happened. And whether, when all other explanations are impossible, they might still happen this very day.

Addictive, thought-provoking, and shocking, Madapple is a page-turning exploration of human nature and divine intervention—and of the darkest corners of the human soul.

Christina Meldrum is a former attorney who lives in the San Francisco Bay Area. Madapple is her first novel.

A thought-provoking novel about straddling two cultures.

Roots and Wings

MANY LY

GRACE'S GRANDMOTHER HAS died, and she and her mother must travel back to the Cambodian community to give her a proper Cambodian funeral. But Grace wants to use the trip to solve a few mysteries, like who her father was, why her mother and grandmother moved from St. Petersburg to Pennsylvania, where they're the only Cambodians Grace has ever seen, and what Cambodian culture is really about.

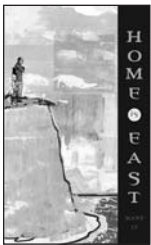

Embraced by her mother's old friends, Grace feels both at home and lost, fascinated by the traditions she's never known, but strangely judged by some members of the community. Can she make sense of, and honor, the life of the grandmother she barely knew? And will revelations about the past bring Grace closer to her mother, or push them even further apart?

Praise for Home Is East:

"Readers looking for a nuanced and sympathetic exploration of second-culture life or a family struggling for rebalance will find a home here."

—The Bulletin

Many Ly immigrated to the U.S. from Cambodia when she was seven years old. She lives in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Suck It Up

BRIAN MEEHL

ARE YOU UP to your neck in bloodsucking vampire stories?

Tired of those tales about dentally enhanced dark lords?

Before I wrote this book I thought all vampires were night-stalking, fang-popping, bloodsucking fiends. Then I met Morning McCobb. He's a vegan vampire who drinks a soy-blood substitute called Blood Lite. He believes staking should be a hate crime. And someday he hopes to march in a Vampire Pride Parade. He was also the first vampire to out himself and try to show people of mortality, like you and me, that vampires are just another minority with special needs. Trust me—this is like no other vampire book you'll ever feed on.

So, as my buddy Morning says, "Pop the lid, and suck it up."

Brian Meehl's comedic "vampire lite" story is unlike any vampire tale ever told. He lives in Redding, Connecticut.

Three teens. Two worlds.
One amazing story.

The Eyes of a King

CATHERINE BANNER

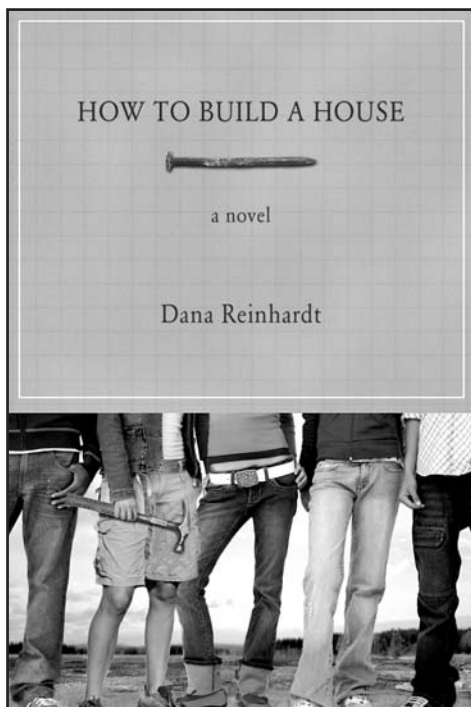

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD LEO NORTH'S prospects in life are limited. He attends military school, lives with his fearful grandmother, and looks after his brother Stirling. He resists his innate powers, because those who demonstrate any sort of magical ability are considered enemies of the state.

But when he finds a blank book in the snow, his typical indifference melts away. From the first moment he touches the book, he senses its strange power. Passages start to appear on the pages—revealing family secrets, telling the history of Malonia, and uncovering the story of Ryan and Anna, two teens from a parallel universe. When Leo's seemingly narrow path takes an unexpected tragic turn, he finds himself on a journey from which he can never really return. And, as he slowly begins to lose touch with reality, Ryan and Anna's story comes to the forefront. Their idyllic summer romance—seemingly worlds away from Leo—has everything to do with Malonia.

Catherine Banner began writing The Eyes of a King when she was 14 years old. And now, at age 18, she's busy at work on the next two books in the trilogy. She lives in England.

*How's a girl to fix a broken heart?
By cooking, of course!*

A la Carte

TANITA S. DAVIS

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD LAINEY DREAMS of becoming a world famous chef one day and maybe even having her own cooking show. (Do you know how many African American female chefs there aren't? And how many vegetarian chefs have their own shows? The field is wide open for stardom!) But when her best friend—and secret crush—suddenly leaves town, Lainey finds herself alone in the kitchen.

With a little help from Saint Julia (Child, of course), Lainey finds solace in her cooking as she comes to terms with the past and begins a new recipe for the future.

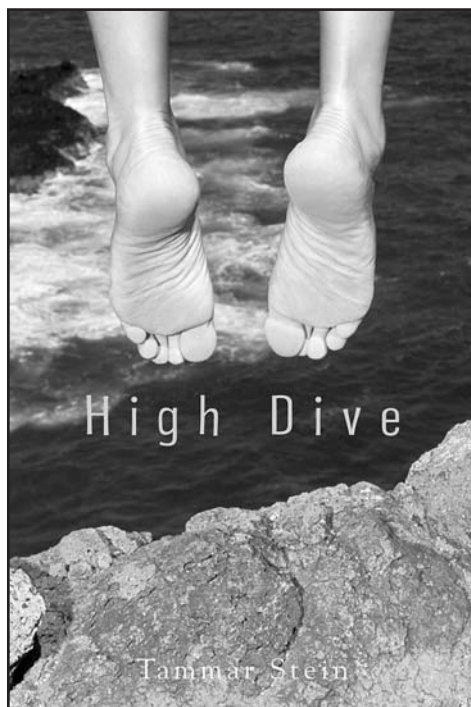

Peppered with recipes from Lainey's notebooks, this delicious debut novel finishes the same way one feels finishing a good meal—satiated, content, and hopeful.

This is Tanita S. Davis's first novel. She made her first pâte à choux in high school, discovered that Mae Ploy sauce goes with almost everything, and that there's nothing on earth like good Thai food. She lives in Northern California with two finches, a snake named Willful, and the world's best baker.

Alfred A. Knopf

An emotional and affecting read.

The Inferior

PEADAR Ó GUILÍN

STOPMOUTH AND HIS family know of no other life than the daily battle to survive. To live, they must hunt rival species, or negotiate flesh-trade with those who crave meat of the freshest human kind.

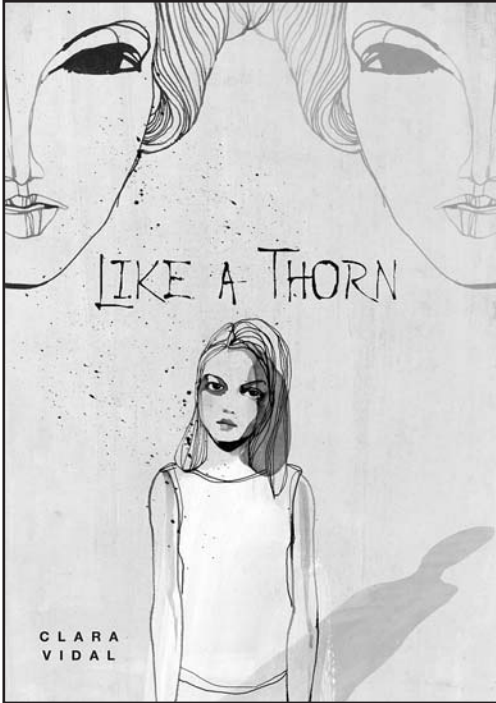

It is a savage, desperate existence. And for Stopmouth, considered slow-witted hunt-fodder by his tribe, the future looks especially bleak. But then, on the day he is callously betrayed by his brother, a strange and beautiful woman falls from the sky.

It is a moment that will change his destiny, and that of all humanity, forever.

With echoes of Tarzan, Conan the Barbarian, and The Truman Show, Peadar Ó Guilín's debut is an action—and idea-packed—blockbuster that will challenge your perceptions of humanity and leave you hungry for more.

Peadar Ó Guilín has been writing curious stories for as long as he can remember. This is his first book for children. He lives in Dublin, Ireland.

The Lost Art

SIMON MORDEN

A MILLENNIUM AFTER the formidable war machines of the User cultures devoured entire civilizations and rewrote planetary geography, Earth is in the grip of a perpetual Dark Age. Scientific endeavor is strongly discouraged, while remnant technology is locked away—hidden by a Church determined to prevent a new Armageddon.

This is the world to which Benzamir Michael Mahmood must return. A descendant of the tribes who fled the planet during those ages old wars, he comes in pursuit of enemies from the far reaches of space. The technology he brings is wondrous beyond the imaginings of those he will meet, but can its potency match that of the Church's most closely guarded treasure?

For centuries it has lain dormant, but it is about to be unearthed, and the powers that will be unleashed may be beyond anyone's capacity to control. Even a man as extraordinary as Benzamir . . .

Dr. Simon Morden is a bona fide rocket scientist, having degrees in geology and planetary geophysics. He's also the author of a number of short stories blending science fiction, fantasy and horror. The Lost Art is his first novel for children. He lives in England.

Rogelia's House of Magic

JAMIE MARTINEZ WOOD

IN ROGELIA'S HOUSE OF MAGIC, three different 14-year-old girls find friendship and special powers as they are trained in the ways of the curandera by a wise old woman.

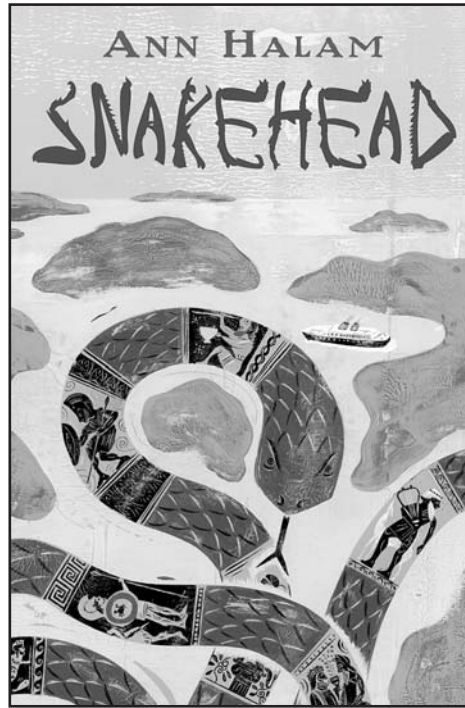

When Rogelia becomes a maid at Marina Peralta's home, it's obvious to Marina and her friend Fern that they have a real mystic on their hands. Soon Rogelia agrees to teach the girls the magic of their ancestors, much as she taught her granddaughters, Xochitl and Gracielia. Even though Marina and Fern are thrilled to have this chance to understand and use their powers, Xochitl isn't happy about sharing such a sacred thing with anyone but her sister, who perished in a car accident. Besides, magic has let Xochitl down before. Why wouldn't it now?

But, as the girls will eventually discover, at Rogelia's House of Magic anything is possible.

Jamie Martinez Wood is the author of The Teen Spell Book: Magick for Young Witches, The Enchanted Diary: A Teen's Guide to Magick and Life, The Wiccan Cookbook, and The Wiccan Herbal. The Viper Within

SAM MILLS

DISILLUSIONED WITH HIS childhood faith, Jon longs to restore that sense of belonging to something greater than himself. Enter Jeremiah, magnetic and mysterious founder of the Brotherhood of the Hebeheus. In Jon, Jeremiah finds a willing disciple for his "new" religion, and an eager participant in the Brotherhood's daring plan: they will kidnap a classmate who Jeremiah believes is part of a terrorist cell. By foiling her plot to blow up their school, the boys of the Hebeheus will command the world's attention, show a righteous religion as the only real tool to thwart terrorism, and become avenging heroes.

But fate and faith have a twist in store for Jon as the captive girl they call Snake causes him to confront the reflection of what he's become in her eyes. Will the appeal of a blind faith be enough to sustain Jon's allegiance? Or will he be unable to deny the viper glimpsed within himself?

British author Sam Mills offers an intense, thoughtful tale in which nobody escapes unscathed. She lives in Surrey, England.

The Magician

The Secrets of the Immortal Nicholas Flamel

MICHAEL SCOTT

AFTER FLEEING OJAI, Nicholas, Sophie, Josh, and Scatty emerge in Paris, the City of Lights. Home for Nicholas Flamel. Only this homecoming is anything but sweet. Perenell is still locked up back in Alcatraz and Paris is teeming with enemies. Nicollo Machiavelli, immortal author and celebrated art collector, is working for Dee. He's after them, and time is running out for Nicholas and Perenell. For every day spent without the Book of Abraham the Mage, they age one year—their magic becoming weaker and their bodies more frail. For Flamel, the Prophecy is becoming more and more clear.

It's time for Sophie to learn the second elemental magic: Fire Magic. And there's only one man who can teach it to her: Flamel's old student, the Comte de Saint-Germain—alchemist, magician, and rock star.

Josh and Sophie Newman are the world's only hope—if they don't turn on each other first.

The City in the Lake

RACHEL NEUMEIER

THE KINGDOM'S HEART is the City. The City's heart is the King. The King's heart is the Prince. The Prince is missing.

Ever since the Prince disappeared, nothing has been right in the Kingdom. Something has disturbed the strange, old magic that whispers around its borders . . . something cunning and powerful. And the disturbance extends to the farthest reaches of the Kingdom, including the idyllic village where Timou is learning to be a mage under her father's tutelage.

When Timou's father journeys to the City to help look for the Prince, but never returns, Timou senses that the disturbance in the Kingdom is linked to her—and to the undiscovered heritage of the mother she never knew. She must leave her village, even if it means confronting powers greater than her own, even though what she finds may challenge everything she knows. Even if it means leaving love behind.

This is Rachel Neumeier's first novel. She lives in Missouri.

An honest and
oh-so-bittersweet debut novel.

Playing with Matches

BRIAN KATCHER

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD LEON SANDERS has a mug that looks like it should be hanging in a post office somewhere. If he didn't have his twisted sense of humor, he'd have nothing at all. So it's no wonder to Leon and his friends that the gorgeous Amy Green will never even look twice at him.

However, there is one girl who might: Melody Hennon. Everyone at Zumner High keeps their distance from Melody because she was burned in a childhood accident. Leon has avoided her, too, until the day he tells her a bad joke and makes her laugh. Although Leon worries what people will think of him dating Melody, he's happy to have someone in his life who thinks he's special. That is, happy until Amy Green asks him out after Leon saves her from getting detention. Will Leon give up a shot with the Beauty so that he can live the fairy tale with the Beast?

What do you do when a miracle has come your way?

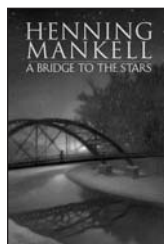

Shadows in the Twilight

HENNING MANKELL

JOEL WILL SOON be 12, and he thinks nothing is going on in the small community where he lives. But he's wrong. One day, an incident that could easily have been a catastrophe turns into a miracle. Now Joel believes he owes the world a good deed, to prove that he deserved what might have been divine intervention. He thinks up an elaborate scheme, but it doesn't go as anticipated. Even though his heart is in the right place, feelings are hurt. If he confesses what he's done and why, will things be put right again?

Readers who met Joel Gustafson, his father, and their friends in A Bridge to the Stars will follow, with appreciation, Henning Mankell's shrewd depiction, in this companion novel, of the surprising changes in Joel's existence. Mankell deftly explores Joel's self-discovery, his realization that lives can be altered in a single moment, and his new understanding that a choice between telling the truth and keeping silent can make all the difference.

Henning Mankell is the prizewinning and internationally acclaimed author of novels for both adult and young readers. Born in a village in northern Sweden, Mankell divides his time between Sweden and Africa, where he works with AIDS-related charities. He is also the director of Teatro Avenida in Maputo, Mozambique.

Unraveling

MICHELLE BALDINI AND LYNN BIEDERMAN

THE SMART THING Is to Prepare for the Unexpected.

So reads the fortune cookie fortune that Amanda receives at the beginning of her family's vacation to Florida. Amanda knows all about preparing for the unexpected—her mother, whom she calls The Captain, is always hard on Amanda, and it's just when Amanda lets her guard down that the very worst comes through. Looking for acceptance, Amanda turns her attention to boys, and doing whatever she can to be popular at school. That includes making out with the gorgeous senior Rick in his car after school—even though he has a girlfriend. And when Rick offers her The Deal—a real, official date to the Homecoming in front of everyone, in exchange for her virginity—Amanda jumps at the chance. But no matter how you try to prepare for the unexpected, sometimes you can't. Sharp, chatty, and brutally honest, this debut novel is compulsively readable and heartbreakingly real.

Lynn Biederman, a former lawyer and school librarian, lives in Bedford, New York, and Michelle Baldini lives in Ohio, where she works for the School of Library and Information Science at Kent University. Unraveling is their first novel.

The story of a regular girl finding her not-so-regular way.

Dream Girl

LAUREN MECHLING

CLAIRE VOYANTE HAS been having strange visions ever since she can remember. But the similarity between her name and her talents is purely coincidental. The name is French, and unlike the psychics on TV, she can't solve crimes or talk to the dead. Whenever Claire follows her hunches, she comes up empty—or ends up in pretty awkward situations.

But that all changes on Claire's 15th birthday, when her grandmother, Kiki—former socialite, fashion icon, and permanent fixture at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel—gives her something a little more extraordinary than one of her old cocktail dresses: a strange black-and-white onyx cameo on a gold chain. It's not long before Claire's world becomes a whole lot clearer. And a whole lot more dangerous

Lauren Mechling is the co-author of the 10th Grade Social Climber series. She has written for the New York Times, Jane, and Seventeen. She lives in New York City.

A rollicking, ridiculous, fantasy novel about finding where you belong.

The Order of Odd-Fish

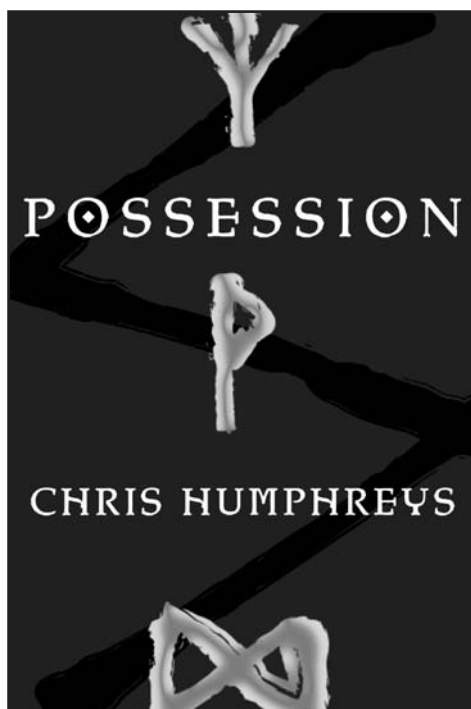

JAMES KENNEDY

JO LAROCHE HAS lived her 13 years in the California desert with her Aunt Lily, ever since she was dropped on Lily's doorstep with this note: This is Jo. Please take care of her. But beware. This is a dangerous baby.

At Lily's annual Christmas costume party, a variety of strange events take place that lead Jo and Lily out of California forever—and into the mysterious, strange, fantastical world of Eldritch City. There, Jo learns the scandalous truth about who she is, and she and Lily join the Order of Odd-Fish, a collection of knights who research useless information. Glamorous cockroach butlers, pointless quests, obsolete weapons, and bizarre festivals fill their days, but two villains are controlling their fate. Jo is inching closer and closer to the day when her destiny is fulfilled, and no one in Eldritch City will ever be the same.

James Kennedy lives in Chicago. The Order of Odd-Fish is his first novel.

The chilling conclusion to the Runestone Saga trilogy.

Possession

CHRIS HUMPHREYS

RUNE MAGIC, TIME travel, transformation: Sky's grandfather opened up a world of limitless possibility . . . then asked the impossible. He asked Sky to kill a man.

Sky and Kristin know they have to stop Sigurd. But how, when he can possess any person, any beast, at will? Once more, the answer is to be found back along the bloodlines. The secret of possession lies in Meg, an accused witch, and in Matthew, the Witchfinder determined to capture her. But the price for knowing what Sigurd knows is steep—to defeat their grandfather, will they have to become exactly like him?

In this thrilling conclusion to the Runestone Saga, the final choice between everlasting life and the necessity of death will be made at one of the great turning points in history—a battle, quite literally, for all time. And the outcome rests precariously on one final cast of the runes. . . .

Chris Humphreys is an actor turned novelist who uses his love of history and swordplay to create swashbuckling adventures. He lives in Vancouver, British Columbia, with his wife and young son.

A stunning debut novel about the bond between brothers.

What They Always Tell Us

MARTIN WILSON

JAMES AND ALEX have barely anything in common anymore—least of all their experiences in high school, where James is a popular senior and Alex is suddenly an outcast. But at home, there is Henry, the precocious 10-year-old across the street, who eagerly befriends them both. And when Alex takes up running, there is James's friend Nathen, who unites the brothers in moving and unexpected ways.

"Martin Wilson's What They Always Tell Us hears the voices of the young as they struggle toward adulthood. . . ."

—Richard Peck, Newbery Award-winning author

"In his beautifully realized first novel, Martin Wilson demonstrates a wonderful gift for finding the truth in human caring and for creating memorably multidimensional and engagingly sympathetic characters whom readers will welcome into their hearts."

—Michael Cart, former president of the ALA's Young Adult Library Services Association and the Assembly on Literature for Adolescents

Martin Wilson lives in New York City.

Vendetta

CHRIS HUMPHREYS

SKY'S GRANDFATHER SIGURD taught Sky how to use the ancient Norse magic of the runes to travel through time, to live as a Viking ancestor, to understand the secrets whispering in his blood . . . But knowledge comes at a cost. Sigurd has stolen Kristin's life, possessed her, body and soul. In a terrifying reversal, Sky's teacher, his blood, has become the enemy.

Determined to find a way to free Kristin, Sky travels to Corsica where he finds the Mazzeri—the Dream Hunters—who leave their bodies at night to stalk their prey. Sky can't understand how this horror can help him . . . until he journeys back in time again and becomes another ancestor who does have an answer for him, one that might yet save Kristin. But it comes with the awakening of a vicious vendetta. And the price of knowledge, as always, will be paid in blood.

Chris Humphreys is an actor turned novelist who uses his love of history and swordplay to create swashbuckling adventures. He lives in Vancouver, British Columbia, with his wife and young son.

SARAH MLYNOWSKI

DING DONG, THE witch is . . . alive and kicking! At long, long last, my powers have arrived, and I'm a bona fide get-your-broom-ready witch! And it's happened just in time. No Manhattan for me this summer—I'm spending my vacation at Camp Wood Lake with my little sis, Miri, and my big crush, Raf. But bug juice, sailing lessons, and moonlit walks under the gorgeous July stars will have to wait. I'm having some serious issues. . . .

Sarah Mlynowski is the author of numerous novels, including the first two titles in the Magic in Manhattan series, Bras & Broomsticks and Frogs & French Kisses. Sarah spent nine summers at sleep-away camp, where she enjoyed campfires, color wars, and conjuring up excuses to get out of swimming lessons. She lives in New York City.

Better than Yesterday

ROBYN SCHNEIDER

AT THE ELITE Hilliard Preparatory School, the competition is fierce, the gossip is worse, and Blake Dorsey has just arrived back on campus after an unexplained two-year absence.

Skylar Banks is the most likely candidate for valedictorian, but she's no stranger to tricky situations herself. She's got a reputation for taking her relationships straight from JV to varsity, and that rep is about to catch up with her.

Charley Morton doesn't have time for Blake's problems—not if he plans to get into Harvard or to win over his dream girl (a.k.a. Skylar). But then Blake takes off for New York City, and Charley, Skylar, and her roommate, Marissa, have no choice but to risk their perfect transcripts to find him.

“Robyn Schneider's smart and witty coming-of-age story has it all: friendship, school pranks, fashion and first love. . . . I read it all in one sitting!”—Sarah Mlynowski, author of Bras & Broomsticks

Robyn Schneider grew up in Orange County, California, and is a student at Barnard College of Columbia University in New York City.

A powerful novel about family, faith, and forgiveness.

A Friend at Midnight

CAROLINE B. COONEY

LILY HATES HER father. It isn't because of her parents' divorce. When her mother remarried and had a baby, she could cope with it. But it hasn't been so for Lily's brother, Michael. Michael decides he wants to live with their father, and as much as they want to stop him, they have to let him go. When Michael suddenly comes home again, only Lily knows why. Lily has no idea how far her faith in God is about to be tested. She knows that one of the Ten Commandments says "Honor thy father"—but what if he doesn't deserve it?

★ "Lily is a bracingly refreshing heroine."—Publishers Weekly, Starred

"Cooney writes movingly about the dynamics of divorce, the hate that 'occupied [Lily] like an army,' and the sense of cosmic resentment that shakes her relationship with God."—Booklist

Elizabeth and Jessica Wakefield are back!

Sweet Valley High: Double Love

FRANCINE PASCAL

WELCOME TO SWEET Valley High—a world of good girls and bad girls, hot boys with fast cars, perfect tans and natural highlights . . . all under the Southern California sun.

Twin girls, identical in every way—yet they couldn't be more different.

Jessica Wakefield is used to getting what she wants—at school, with her friends, and especially with boys—and she'll stop at nothing to get it.

Elizabeth Wakefield is used to letting her twin sister have her way. There's not much that's worth fighting her over—lost earrings can be replaced, petty problems can be resolved, and rampant rumors can be doused like a fire.

But when it comes to Todd Wilkins, Liz isn't so sure she should step aside and make way for Jessica. This time, Jessica Wakefield is going to have some competition—from her own sister.

Sweet Valley High: Secrets

FRANCINE PASCAL

WELCOME TO SWEET Valley High—a world of good girls with big secrets, bad girls with no remorse, rich boys in stunning tuxedos, and shimmering California sunsets.

Jessica Wakefield only wants two things: to be chosen homecoming queen, and to dance in the spotlight with Bruce Patman.

But there's one girl standing in her way—Enid Rollins, her twin sister Elizabeth's best friend.

When Jessica discovers Enid's deepest, darkest secret, she has a choice to make: be nice and keep quiet, or reveal it to the entire school and clinch the crown for herself.

The queen will be breathtaking. But the quest for royalty is never pretty.

Francine Pascal is the creator of many books for young adults, including Sweet Valley High and its spin-offs, Sweet Valley Twins, Sweet Valley Kids, SVU, and Elizabeth, as well as the Fearless series.

A warm, human account of growing up in the barrio.

Living Up the Street

GARY SOTO

IN A PROSE that is so beautiful it is poetry, we see the world of growing up and going somewhere through the dust and heat of Fresno's industrial side and beyond: a boy's coming-of-age in the barrio, parochial school, attending church, public summer school, and trying to fall out of love so he can join in a Little League baseball team.

"One of those rare books that come from the author's heart, tempered by his intelligence and made alive by imaginative spirit."

—San Francisco Chronicle

Gary Soto is the author of many popular titles for children and young adults, including Too Many Tamales, Chato's Kitchen, Buried Onions, and Living Up the Street. He divides his time between Berkeley and his hometown of Fresno, California.

Soto takes his reader through the sights, sounds, and smells of Fresno.

A Summer Life

GARY SOTO

GARY SOTO WRITES that when he was five “what I knew best was at ground level.” In this lively collection of short essays, Soto takes his reader to a ground-level perspective, recreating in vivid detail the sights, sounds, smells, and textures he knew growing up in his Fresno, California, neighborhood. The “things” of his boyhood tie it all together: his Buddha “spotted with gold,” the taps of his shoes and the “engines of sparks that lived beneath my soles,” his worn tennies smelling of “summer grass, asphalt, the moist sock breathing the defeat of baseball.” The child’s world is made up of small things—small, very important things.

“Deceptively simplistic and quietly powerful sketches from a gifted poet and storyteller.”—Booklist

“Soto the realist does not neglect his boyhood mischief, and his sly sense of humor is exercised throughout.”—Publishers Weekly

Gary Soto is the author of many popular titles for children and young adults, including Too Many Tamales, Chato’s Kitchen, Buried Onions, and Living Up the Street. He divides his time between Berkeley and his hometown of Fresno, California.

A raw and provocative novel from the author of The Burn Journals.

Maybe

BRENT RUNYON

MAYBE EVERYTHING WILL be different here. Maybe I should drive away and never come back. Maybe my brother didn't mean to. Maybe no one will ever love me. Maybe if I mouth the words no one will know I'm not singing. But maybe someone, somehow, will hear me anyway.

Megiddo's Shadow

ARTHUR SLADE

FUELED BY ANGER at the death of his brother in World War I, Edward abandons his father on their farm, and leaves Canada to enlist. After proving that he can tame any wild horse, he is sent to Jordan to fight with the Cavalry.

Luckily, his horse is the extraordinary Buke; in battle, a trooper's horse is the key to life and death, and his true companion. As they close in on the enemy, Edward finds that the glory and noble vengeance he seeks is replaced by the horror of war and the realization that he must fight, not only to survive, but also, to kill.

LINDA NEWBERY

“AT FIRST, this novel, set in Sussex in the late nineteenth century, seems like a conventional gothic, complete with a plain governess and an attractive, widowed head of household. But it is so much more. Samuel Godwin arrives at Fourwinds, the home of Ernest Farrow and his teenage daughters, the despondent Juliana and the wild, erratic Marianne. Hired to tutor the girls, Samuel soon feels real affection for them, as well as for their governess, Charlotte. He reveres Mr. Farrow, not just because he is treated well, but also because of Farrow’s keen interest in art and architecture. He soon learns, however, that the household is not what it seems, and that to solve one mystery only uncovers another. . . . Evocatively written and carefully crafted . . . , this will tantalize readers.”—Booklist

★ “A heady, mesmerizing Victorian tale of intrigue, family and art.”

JESSICA WOLLMAN

LAURA MELLON IS tired of cleaning houses with her starry-eyed mom while the world passes her by. But it's the only way she'll ever be able to save enough $$$ for college.

Willa Pogue is too busy worrying about fitting in at her snooty new boarding school to enjoy being an heiress. Then she meets Laura, her new maid. Laura's the spitting image of Willa—and she's a total bookworm!

Soon Laura is trading vacuums for boarding school, and Willa is sinking blissfully into the anonymity of the hired help. It's a temporary vacation from reality for them both. But, then, Laura begins to fall for preppy Caleb Blake, and Willa discovers a brand-new (and completely unacceptable, for a Pogue) passion. Can the girls ever return to their old lives?

The Two Best Books You've Never Read

Introducing beloved classics for a whole new generation to discover

You know a really great book when you read one. Do you remember when Michael meets the mysterious Skellig for the first time? Do you remember running down the beach with Lily in Lily's Crossing? Do you remember how you felt when you finished these award-winning books?

Now it's time for today's middle-grade readers to discover the two best books they've never read.

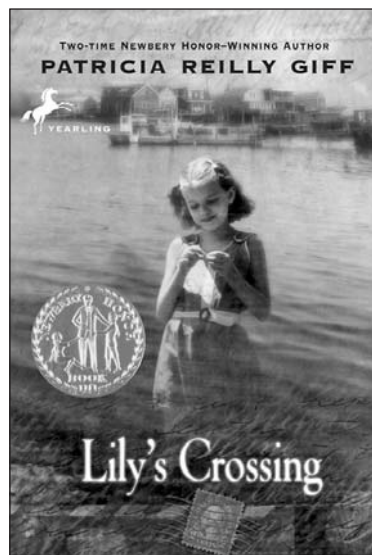

Ten-year-old Michael was looking forward to moving into a new house. But now his baby sister's ill, his parents are frantic, and Michael feels helpless. Then, one day, Michael discovers a strange beast in the garage who will change his world forever. Told in lyrical prose, Skellig is a mystery, an adventure, and a family story in which Michael learns about nature, poetry, and the healing power of love. The novel was a New York Times bestseller and an ALA Notable Book. David Almond won a Printz Honor for Skellig.

In the summer of 1944, World War II has changed everyone's life. Lily feels completely alone, her best friend has moved to a wartime factory town, and, much worse, Lily's father is going overseas to fight in the war.

But then Lily meets Albert, a refugee from Hungary with a secret sewn into his coat. Acclaimed author Patricia Reilly Giff has received two Newbery Honors, including one for Lily's Crossing. Lily's Crossing was also a Boston Globe-Horn Book Honor Book and has sold over 85,000 copies in hardcover and 270,000 copies in paperback.

First Book and Random House Children's Books

Encouraging New Readers Together Since 1992

Dear First Book,

"I think and believe that books are important. . . . Books take me places like the stars."—Roshawn

"The importance of developing early literacy skills cannot be overstated: we know that our kids will do better in school and in life if they are given the opportunity to read and interact with books from a very early age. Because of First Book, millions of children in Head Start programs across the country experience the magic and wonder of reading everyday."—Michael McGrady, Deputy Director, National Head Start Association

The most important thing that can be done to improve the literacy rate in our country is to ensure that children have access to books. This is true simply because the only behavioral measure that correlates significantly with reading scores is the number of books in the home. Having age-appropriate books on shelves at home can dramatically change the course of an otherwise disadvantaged child's life.

Since 1992, First Book has been placing brand-new books into the hands of children in need, profoundly impacting their lives. The First Book model was developed to leverage the work of local heroes who reach children through existing literacy programs in a variety of settings, such as Head Start centers, libraries, soup kitchens, churches, housing projects, and after-school initiatives. After receiving books from First Book, surveys verify that a child's interest in reading more than doubles, and that, in turn, they share that passion with others in their family.

First Book has distributed 50 million books over the past 15 years, but that's only a start. Random House is making a significant, multiyear commitment to First Book because, together, we have what it takes to make a real impact in our world.

A $1.00 cash donation to First Book results in $10 worth of books directly to children in need.

"Meyer's trilogy seethes with the archetypal tumult of star-crossed passions, in which the supernatural element serves as heady spice. As Bella and her vampire swain channel Romeo and Juliet, Heathcliff and Cathy, their audience falls under the spell of a love that is not only undying, but undead." —The New York Times Book Review

Children's Book Council

The 90th annual of Children's Book Week will be May 11–17, 2009! Since 1919, educators, librarians, book-sellers, and families have celebrated Children's Book Week during the week before Thanksgiving. However, teachers, librarians and book-sellers asked us to move this national celebration to a time when more kids could be actively engaged. So in 2008, Children's Book Week moved to early May.

Join the celebration! Special materials available from the Children's Book Council are created by some of today's hottest children's book stars. Use these posters, bookmarks, and other items to decorate your walls, promote your events, and, most importantly, encourage kids to read. Be sure to visit the Children's Book Council's website at www.cbcbooks.org for more information, ideas, and materials for Children's Book Week 2009.

 Random House Children's Books is a member of the Children's Book Council (CBC), a nonprofit trade organization that encourages the use and enjoyment of books and related literacy materials for young people. Our books from the current and immediately preceding year are available for examination at the CBC Library, 12 West 37th Street, New York, NY 10018. The library is open to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.
