What's Wrong, Little Pookie?

SANDRA BOYNTON

POOKIE'S UPSET AND POOKIE'S MOM cannot figure out why. And Pookie isn't helping, either.

This familiar scenario is told with Sandra Boynton's signature humor, in both story and art. Caregivers and young children will laugh their way out of their sorrow as Mom and Pookie work things out. Never fear, a happy ending is on the way!

Perfect for toddlers having a meltdown, or anyone in a plain old bad mood, this book will come to the rescue for kids and adults for years to come.

Sandra Boynton is the beloved author and illustrator of over 40 books, with 19 million of them in print. Since 1975, her well-known greeting cards have sold more than 100 million copies. "Mostly to family and friends," she says. Boynton is also a Grammy-nominated record producer and songwriter. Her books have won numerous awards, including the Parents Magazine Award. She lives and works and goofs off in the foothills of the Berkshires with her husband, whitewater racer/expeditionist Jamie McEwan, and their four perfect children.

Big and Little

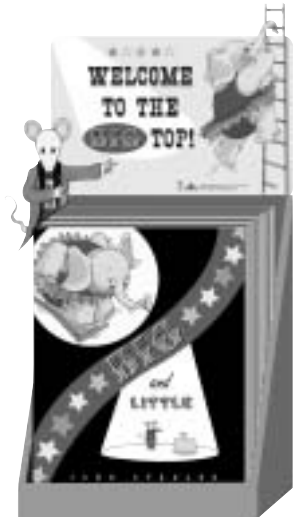

JOHN STADLER

WELCOME to the big top and get ready to experience a spectacular show, hosted by our mouse emcee! Will Ellie the elephant be able to jump from a very tall ladder into a tiny glass of water? The suspense mounts as Ellie climbs up, gets nervous, can't look down and then jumps . . . right into the glass of water.

Through the clever use of gatefold flaps, the reader will learn that what seemed big (Ellie) is really little, and what seemed little (our mouse host) is really big.

This simple story can be used on many levels—as a novelty book, as an early reader, and as a literacy tool for those who cannot read English, since the story tells itself through John Stadler's wonderful expressive illustrations.

John Stadler is the author of almost 30 children's books, among them the bestselling Hooray for Snail and Cat at Bat. Many of his titles have been selected as an ALA Editor's Choice, a Children's Choice, and by Reading Rainbow. His books have also been featured in The New York Times Best Books for Children. He lives with his wife, Nomi, in New Hampshire.

Safety Tested!

A clever new twist—or shall we say
“turn”?—on the touch-and-feel format!

Christmas Is Coming!

LISA ANN MARSOLI
ILLUSTRATED BY LUCY BARNARD

YOUNG CHILDREN WILL LOVE helping Santa and his elves get ready for Christmas! This new board book format features five touch-and-feel elements, rotated by use of a sturdy wheel. There are two tactile elements on each spread and, on the last spread, all five are used.

The tactile elements include: shiny black leather, white sparkly glitter, very plush red velvet, green fur, and multicolored holographic foil. Kids are invited to turn the wheel to match up the touch-and-feel elements with the illustrations throughout the book as the elves wrap presents, Santa inspects the toys, and everyone trims the Christmas tree!

Lisa Ann Marsoli has been developing content for children's books and toys for over 20 years, and is the author of more than 100 children's books. She lives in Los Angeles, California.

Lucy Barnard has been illustrating children's books for two years and has published 16 of them.

She lives in Manchester, England.

Art by Kellie Strom from Sadie the Air Mail Pilot (see page 28).

Dr. Seuss™

How the Grinch Stole Christmas!

A 50th Anniversary Retrospective

WITH COMMENTARY BY CHARLES D. COHEN

INSIDE THIS VERY SPECIAL anniversary edition of How the Grinch Stole Christmas!, you'll find the complete, original text and illustrations by Dr. Seuss, along with 32 fascinating pages of commentary, footnotes and archival images—written and compiled by renowned collector and Seuss scholar Charles D. Cohen. In chatty, conversational style, Cohen reflects upon Dr. Seuss's changing view of Christmas over the years and traces the evolution of the Grinch, his dog Max, and the inhabitants of Who-ville. Also together for the first time are three rarely seen Seuss holiday offerings: "Perfect Present," a poem about the fluff-footed, frizzle-topped, three-fingered Zift and why it makes the ideal gift; "The Hoobub and the Grinch," a story about a con artist Grinch who sells pieces of green string; and the spiritually compelling painting and poem "A Prayer for a Child."

Charles D. Cohen's trove of Seussiana is likely the most comprehensive in the world. Items from the collection have been on display at the National Dr. Seuss Memorial in Springfield, Massachusetts, and at the Children's Museum of Manhattan. He is the author of The Seuss, the Whole Seuss, and Nothing but the Seuss. He lives and practices dentistry in South Deerfield, Massachusetts.

A fascinating, never-before-told account of a company and the mavericks behind it.

Golden Legacy

*How Golden Books Won Children's Hearts,
 Changed Publishing Forever, and Became an American Icon Along the Way*

LEONARD S. MARCUS

THE YEAR 2007 marks the 65th anniversary of a bold experiment: the launch of the Little Golden Books during the dark days of World War II. At a time when the literacy rate was not nearly as high as it is now—and privation was felt by nearly all—quality books for children would now be available at a price nearly everyone could afford (25 cents), and sold where ordinary people shopped. Golden Legacy is a lively history of a company, a line of books, the groundbreaking writers and artists who created them, the clever mavericks who marketed and sold them, and the cultural landscape that surrounded them.

Leonard S. Marcus has written many award-winning books, including Margaret Wise Brown: Awakened by the Moon. A frequent contributor to The New York Times Book Review, Washington Post Book World, The Horn Book, and Publishers Weekly, Marcus's book reviews have been featured in every issue of Parenting magazine since it was founded in 1987. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

The Poky Little Puppy

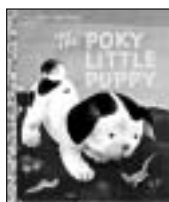

65th Anniversary Edition

JANETTE SEBRING LOWREY
 ILLUSTRATED BY GUSTAF TENGGREN

EVERYONE KNOWS THE STORY of the poky little puppy, who had to go to bed without any strawberry shortcake. This book, which was one of the original 12 Little Golden Books that launched in October 1942, is now available in an upscale, 52-page edition that features all of the artwork that was later cut when World War II—era paper rationing took its toll. It's the perfect way to honor Little Golden Books' 65th anniversary—and the bestselling picture book of all time.

Janette Sebring Lowrey, who lived in Texas, wrote mostly teen fiction for Harper & Row during the 1940s and 1950s. Her 1950 novel Margaret inspired an early television show starring a young Annette Funicello.

Gustaf Tenggren, who immigrated to the U.S. from Sweden in 1920, was the most versatile of the Golden Books illustrators. He brought to life many of the bestselling Little Golden Books of all time, including The Saggy Baggy Elephant, The Shy Little Kitten, and Tawny Scrawny Lion.

Mind Your Manners, B. B. Wolf

JUDY SIERRA
 ILLUSTRATED BY J. OTTO SEIBOLD

BIG BAD WOLF, now old and residing in the Villain Villa Senior Center, is invited to a tea by a children’s librarian. His best friend, a toothsome crocodile, warns him that he will have to mind his manners. B. B. Wolf makes up a song: “Sip your tea and never slurp, say ‘excuse me’ if you burp. Smile and have a lot of fun, but don’t go biting anyone.” He remembers to say “please” and “thank you” and he gives a nervous Red Ridinghood, Three Little Pigs, and Gingerbread Boy his biggest smile ever, but when his stomach starts to gurgle, he gets a little mixed-up about what to do when you burp. This hilarious read-aloud story is a gentle reminder for children still learning their manners.

Judy Sierra is the author of Wild About Books, a New York Times #1 bestseller and winner of the E. B. White Read-Aloud Award. She is also the author of Thelonus Monster’s Sky-High Fly Pie and The Secret Science Project that Almost Ate the School. She lives in Oakland, California.

J. Otto Seibold, author/illustrator of Olive the Other Reindeer was one of the first children’s book artists to create computer-generated art and is considered the master of that medium. He lives in San Francisco, California.

This squirrel has got teeth! Well, not really.

Squirrely Gray

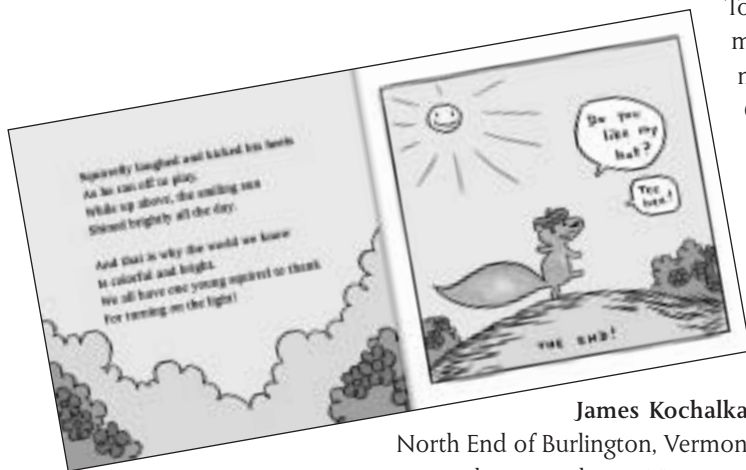

JAMES KOCHALKA

SQUIRRELLY GRAY LIVES in a world without color. His TV is the only fun he has. (And it's really not much fun.)

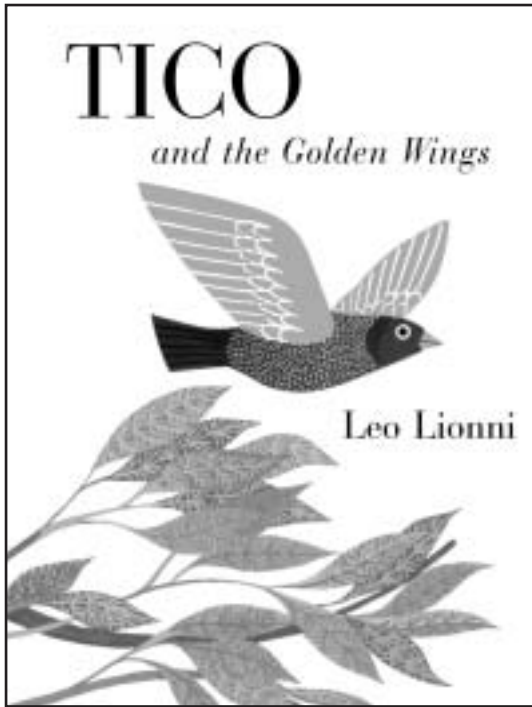

But tonight is an unusual night for the young squirrel. First he meets the Tooth Fairy, who is very nice. And then he meets the Hungry Fox, who is not so nice. So turn off that TV, Squirrely Gray—the fun is just beginning!

Mixing playful verse with comics-inspired illustration, James Kochalka has created a unique picture book and an imaginative fable that will have kids rooting for the always adorable, sometimes courageous Squirrely Gray.

James Kochalka lives in a very old house in the Old North End of Burlington, Vermont, with his beautiful wife, adventurous son, and very cranky cat. His comics have won four Ignatz Awards and one Harvey Award. His music drives parents crazy!

Tico and the Golden Wings

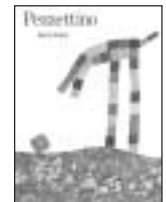

LEO LIONNI

FROM MASTER STORYTELLER and four-time Caldecott Honor Book artist Leo Lionni, here is a tale about Tico, a little bird born without wings, who one day is granted his dearest wish. But the wings he gets are made of gold, and his bird friends turn against him. “You think you are better than we are,” they say. What Tico does with his golden feathers—and the important lesson he learns—is a fable that children will take to their hearts. Out of print for nearly a decade, this lovely tale set in India is now re-issued with Tico’s wings printed in shimmering gold metallic ink for the first time since the book was published in 1964.

An original fairy tale about the value of friendship.

The Jewel Box Ballerinas

MONIQUE DE VARENNES

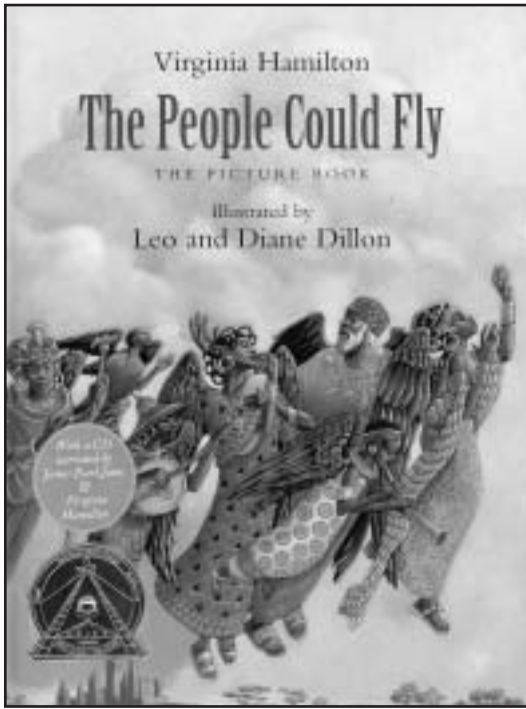

ILLUSTRATED BY ANA JUAN

“I’LL TAKE TWO!” That’s what Bibi Branchflower says about everything. She has two houses, two hats (exactly alike), and two silly dogs. But she doesn’t have a single friend. When she comes across a beautiful jewel box, of course she wants two of them. Though there’s only one like it in all the world, inside two dancers spin. Perfect! The shopkeeper explains that the box is enchanted—all who look on the ballerinas will see sorrow in their faces. Soon Bibi becomes more concerned with her sad ballerinas than with worldly riches. What will make them happy? It is her love that finally transforms them into living, breathing, happy children—and gives Bibi two real friends.

Monique de Varennes received her M.A. from the writing seminars at John Hopkins University and was awarded the Pushcart Prize in 2003 for one of her short stories. The author of The Sugar Child, she lives in Los Angeles.

Ana Juan is the illustrator of Kelly Cunnane’s For You Are a Kenyan Child, Campbell Geeslin’s Elena’s Serenade, and Frida, a picture book biography of Frida Kahlo. She also wrote and illustrated The Night Eater, which won an Ezra Jack Keats New Illustrator Award. She lives in Madrid, Spain.

The award-winning tale, now narrated by James Earl Jones and Virginia Hamilton.

The People Could Fly

The Picture Book with CD

VIRGINIA HAMILTON
 ILLUSTRATED BY LEO AND DIANE DILLON

LEO AND DIANE DILLON'S award-winning picture book interpretation of Newbery Medalist Virginia Hamilton's beloved tale now includes an unforgettable word-for-word CD narration by James Earl Jones and Virginia Hamilton. This tale of slaves who could fly to freedom offered hope in the darkly brutal times of slavery. "That is what Virginia Hamilton set out to show, what the Dillons have so astutely expounded on and what ultimately makes this version of 'People' so powerful. Think of it as a triad of words, pictures, and storytelling."—New York Times Book Review

An elegant gift for reading, looking, and listening.

Virginia Hamilton died in 2002 at age 66.

Leo and Diane Dillon have won two Caldecott Medals.

Watch a street wake up in this rollicking read-aloud.

Waking Up Wendell

APRIL STEVENS
 ILLUSTRATED BY TAD HILLS

EARLY IN THE MORNING, a little bird at #1 Fish Street hops out of her nest, takes a deep breath, and begins to sing a very loud and whistley song, TWEEEEEEET-TWEEEEEEET-TA-TA-TA-TWEEEEEEET-TWEEEEEEET!

So starts the story of how a chain of events results in everyone on one street waking up. The bird's song awakens Mr. Krudwig at #2 Fish Street, whose grumbling wakes up Leopold, his dog, who barks "RAPPITY-RAPPITY-RAP RAPPITY-RAPPITY-RAP" . . . and wakes up Mrs. Musky, at #3 Fish Street. The antics go on and on until, finally, Lilah Hall's singing in the shower at #9 awakens the last person left who is still asleep, none other than the littlest resident at #10 Fish Street: baby Fergus Finnamore.

April Stevens is the author of Angel, Angel a novel for adults. She lives in Cornwall, Connecticut.

Tad Hills is the author and illustrator of Duck & Goose, a New York Times Bestseller and ALA Notable Book, and its sequel, Duck, Duck, Goose. A painter, actor, and obsessive Halloween costume maker, he lives in Brooklyn, New York, with his wife and children.

Gentle wings bring sweet dreams in this soothing lullaby of a story.

Who Will Sing a Lullaby?

DEE LILLEGARD
ILLUSTRATED BY DAN YACCARINO

BABY IS CRYING and Crow and Goose and Owl and Swan all think they have the perfect antidote—"I'll take baby flying, that will stop the crying." And as baby floats on wings of love above fields and oceans, he is soothed . . . until each bird in turn crows just a bit too loudly and proudly at his own success and wakes that baby up again. Finally, little Nightingale, who has been struggling to be heard, gets her chance to try a lullaby. Our tearful baby is now dreaming sweet dreams. And soon the birds are sleeping too—and so will you.

This book has perfect pacing, exactly mirroring the rhythm of a child struggling to fall asleep and finally settling down. And Dan Yaccarino's dreamy, ethereal artwork is the perfect match for Dee Lillegard's sweet song of a story.

Dee Lillegard is the author of many fine collections of poetry and many wonderfully inventive picture books. She lives in Castro Valley, California.

Dan Yaccarino is an internationally acclaimed author-illustrator with more than 30 books to his credit. He is the creator of the animated TV series Oswald. He lives in New York City with his wife and two children.

The Adventures of Max and Pinky: Superheroes

MAXWELL EATON III

THEY BATTLE SNOW MONSTERS, save whales, and stop falling meteors—but Max hogs all the glory while Pinky mostly gets clobbered! Will the super-duo become solo-heroes? What will happen when one of them gets his head stuck in a fence? Who will save the day (and exact a little silly revenge)? All will be revealed in this thrilling tale of capes, friendship, and lemonade!

Maxwell Eaton offers a sweetly zany tale that will have both kids and grown-ups laughing out loud and possibly donning a cape.

Praise for Best Buds:

★ “Wry and imaginative humor fills the pages. . . . Smart yet silly and accessible, this stands out in a sea of bland picture book stories about friends; kids will giggle their way through this introduction and look forward to the pair’s next outing.”—The Bulletin, Starred

“Eaton offers a spry portrait of friendship. . . . Youngsters will likely wish to tune in for the duo’s next adventure, Superheroes.”—Publishers Weekly

If Maxwell Eaton III were to be part of an action-hero team, he would opt for the less stressful sidekick role. He lives in Saranac Lake, New York.

Velma Gratch & the Way Cool Butterfly

ALAN MADISON

ILLUSTRATED BY KEVIN HAWKES

IT'S HARD TO BE VELMA entering first grade. That's because everyone has marvelous memories of her two older sisters, who were practically perfect first graders, and no one even notices Velma. But all that changes on a class trip to the butterfly conservatory, a place neither of her sisters has been. When a monarch roosts on Velma's finger and won't budge for days—no one will ever forget it . . . or her!

Kids will enjoy reading about everything butterflies, from migration to metamorphosis, as they follow Velma's own transformation.

Alan Madison is the author of some very funny books for children, including The Littlest Grape Stomper, and Pecorino Plays Ball. He lives in New York City.

Kevin Hawkes has illustrated the New York Times bestselling Library Lion and My Little Sister Ate One Hare. He lives in Gorham, Maine.

From a five-time Caldecott Honor artist and Newbery Honor author.

The All-I'll-Ever-Want Christmas Doll

PATRICIA C. MCKISSACK
ILLUSTRATED BY JERRY PINKNEY

IT'S CHRISTMAS, AND NELLA is beside herself with excitement! She and her sisters have been given a real gift—a beautiful Baby Betty doll. But it's hard to share something you've waited your whole seven-year-old life for, and Nella grabs the doll for herself. It isn't long before she discovers that a doll can't do the fun things she and her sisters do together. So, as Christmas day fades, Nella shares it with her sisters. Set in the Depression era South, here's a heartwarming story that captures the essence of the holiday.

Patricia C. McKissack is the Newbery Honor, Coretta Scott King Award-winning author of The Dark-Thirty and Porch Lies an ALA Notable Book. She has collaborated with Jerry Pinkney on Goin' Someplace Special (Coretta Scott King Award winner) and Mirandy and Brother Wind (Coretta Scott King Award winner and Caldecott Honor Book).

Jerry Pinkney is the illustrator of five Caldecott Honor Books, including our own Mirandy and Brother Wind. He has won the Coretta Scott King Award five times. He lives in Croton-on-Hudson, New York.

The Barnyard Night Before Christmas

BETH TERRILL

ILLUSTRATED BY GREG NEWBOLD

"NOW BESSIE! NOW, BILLY! NOW, BINGO! NOW, CHICKIE!

On, Lambsy! On, Trigger! On, Quacker and Piggy!"

And laying his finger aside of his nose,

Up, up, Santa Claus and those animals rose.

Notice something a little different? Well, in this hilarious retelling of the iconic Clement C. Moore Christmas poem, it's a barnyard full of mischievous, quarrelsome livestock that gets Santa and his sleigh off the ground this Christmas Eve. With a little ingenuity, a few balloons, and a lot of attitude, they give Santa a Christmas Eve he'll never forget!

Beth Terrill is an editor of children's books. She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

Greg Newbold has been an artist his entire life. His illustrations have appeared in many books, magazines advertisements, and exhibitions. He lives with his family in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Jealousy, betrayal, sabotage, partying—and it's a picture book!

When Randolph Turned Rotten

CHARISE MERICLE HARPER

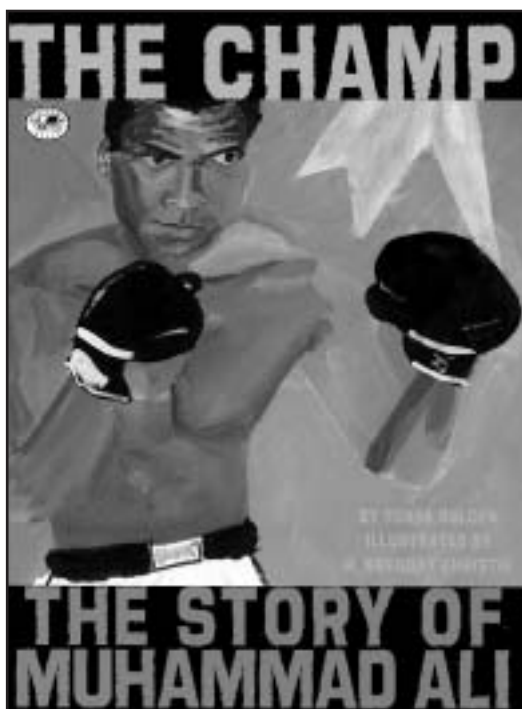

MOST OF THE TIME, Randolph is very, very nice. But when his friend Ivy gets invited to a really great sleepover birthday party and he doesn't, Randolph feels a little left out, and sad, and mad. And then he goes a little crazy! Will he ever turn back to the nice friend he once was? We hope so!

This nutty friendship story recognizes that even best friends aren't always good friends (sometimes they can be downright rotten!). Kids' squirmier feelings are conveyed with good humor and empathy in this reassuring tale about the icky feelings we all have, even though we are mostly very, very nice.

Charise Mericle Harper is the celebrated creator of Fashion Kitty and Imaginative Inventions. She once experienced intense jealousy over a box of pancake mix. She lives with her husband, their children, and a personable cat in Mamaroneck, New York.

“This is picture-book biography at its best.”
—Kirkus Reviews

Dare the Day!

Step into Reading—Step 2

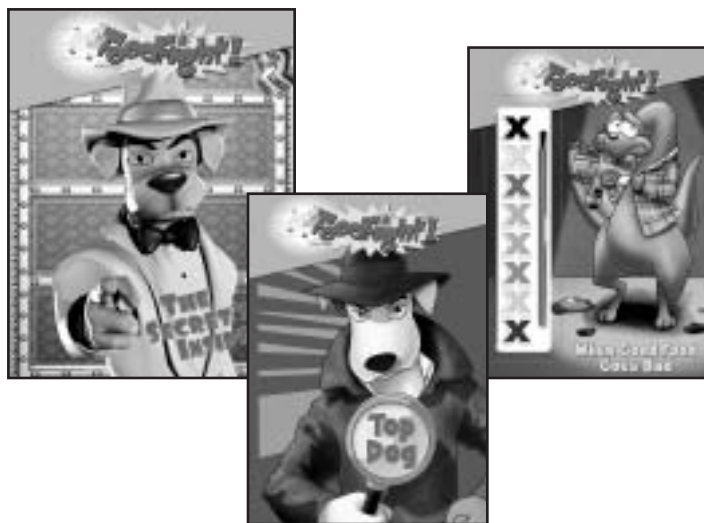

JUST BECAUSE MR. Leonard shuts down his supermarket for the night, it doesn't mean the store stops running. It's time for flashing lights, dancing brand icons, and the transformation of grocery aisles into jumping city streets—it's a Marketropolis! But when trouble strikes this little city, it's up to Dex the Dogdetective and Daredevil Dan to save the day and the frozen food section. This fun-filled food adventure comes to life in this Step 2 reader featuring the characters from the highly anticipated film FoodFight!

FoodFight!

Junior Novelization

WHEN THE LIGHTS go out in the supermarket, the aisles come to life as a hustling, bustling metropolis filled with living brand icons. Everything seems garden fresh until Sunshine Goodness, the Raisin Girl, disappears, and the mysterious Lady X and her Brand X army begin making some very unwelcome changes to the store's inventory. Before things get any more rotten, cereal sleuth Dex the Dogdetective will have to find Sunshine Goodness and get to the bottom of Lady X's plans. Otherwise, Dex and the other brand icons may just end up on the bargain shelf . . . permanently. Take a bite out of the action in FoodFight!, featuring 8 pages of full-color stills from the new high-energy, computer-animated movie!

FoodFight! hits theaters— and your shopping cart—in Fall 2007!

Thomas and the Great Race

THE REVEREND W. AWDRY

BERTIE THE BUS thinks he is faster than Thomas. Before you can say “Ready? Set. Go!” they’re on their way. An interactive element of working wheels affixed to the book lets Thomas fans experience the great race first hand as they chug along with Thomas!

Thomas & Friends: Go, Thomas, Go! Bright & Early Playtime Books

THE REVEREND W. AWDRY

THOMAS MUST GET the Judge to the very important train show, but they are running late. Faster and faster Thomas rushes the Judge through country and town, over the bridge, and through the tunnel. With fun, interactive play on every spread, young readers pull the tabs, lift the flaps, and spin the dials to make sure Thomas arrives on time.

In the early 1940s, a loving father crafted a small, blue, wooden engine for his son, Christopher. The stories that this father, the Reverend W. Awdry, made up to accompany this wonderful toy were first published in 1945. He continued to create new adventures and characters until 1972, when he retired from writing. Reverend Awdry died in 1997 at age 85.

Thomas & Friends: Gordon's New View

Step into Reading—Step 1

THE REVEREND W. AWDRY

GORDON IS RARELY willing to help out the other engines when they're busy with work. He feels that he is above it all. Ultimately, Gordon learns a very important lesson—when he least expects it, and in a very interesting way.

Originally by the Rev. W. Awdry, this classic story has been adapted to appeal to the readers who are just about ready for an independent and satisfying reading experience.

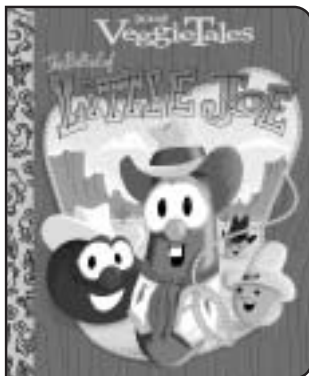

Thomas & Friends Fun Kit!

Fun Kit

NOW THOMAS FANS can join all of their railway friends! This cool box with a handle is packed with everything they'll need for the trip, including three coloring books, three sheets of stickers, crayons, and more!

In the early 1940s, a loving father crafted a small, blue, wooden engine for his son, Christopher. The stories that this father, The Reverend W. Awdry, made up to accompany this wonderful toy were first published in 1945. He continued to create new adventures and characters until 1972 when he retired from writing. Reverend Awdry died in 1997 at age 85.

A to Z Mysteries Super Edition #2: Mayflower Treasure Hunt

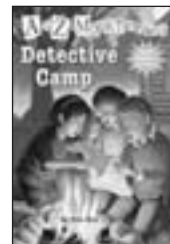

A Stepping Stone Book™

RON ROY
 ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN STEVEN GURNEY

DINK, JOSH, AND RUTH ROSE are spending Thanksgiving in Plymouth, Massachusetts. They can't wait to see the sights and have a Thanksgiving dinner just like the Pilgrims would have eaten. Then the kids learn about a sapphire necklace that went missing on the real Mayflower. Could the 400-year-old treasure be hidden somewhere nearby? This exciting extension to the A to Z Mysteries chapter book series features more pages, favorite characters, a more complex plot, and a 26-letter message hidden in the art.

Ron Roy lives in an old farmhouse in Connecticut with his white puppy, Pal. He is also the author of Random House's Capital Mysteries series.

John Steven Gurney has illustrated many books for children, including the entire A to Z Mysteries series and Scholastic's popular Bailey School Kids series. He lives in Brattleboro, Vermont.

GROWING UP IN Russia in the late 1800s, Marc Chagall doesn't know what art is. He doesn't even know what drawing is until one of his schoolmates shows him how to trace a picture in a magazine. Marc tries it himself, then decides to pull pictures out of his own mind—his Uncle Noah on the roof, giant chickens, flying cows, happy men with fiddles, and women with lambs. Suddenly Marc knows what he wants to do with his life. He wants to be an artist!

Eric A. Kimmel is the award-winning author of several well-known children's books, including the Caldecott Honor book Hershel and the Hanukkah Goblins and his first Stepping Stones book, A Horn for Louis.

Matthew Trueman grew up in Italy and has illustrated many acclaimed books for children. He lives in Phillipsburg, New Jersey.

Weird Planet #5: Lights, Camera . . . Liftoff! A Stepping Stone Book™

DAN GREENBURG
ILLUSTRATED BY MACKY PAMINTUAN

KLATU, LEK, AND PLOO just missed their ride home to planet Loogl. The army men from Area 51 scared their spaceship away. So where can they find a place to land a spaceship without causing havoc? Hollywood, of course, on the stage set of a film crew! But when they get there, the three kids are roped into being extras on a new sci-fi TV show. Have Lek, Klatu, and Ploo finally hit the big time? Break out the shades—they've gone from seeing stars . . . to being stars!

Noted humorist Dan Greenburg has had otherworldly success since he turned to writing kids' books with popular series such as Weird Planet and The Zack Files. He lives with his wife Judith Greenburg, and his son, Zack (the inspiration for The Zack Files) on the Hudson River.

Coming from Dinuba, a town that sounds a little like a strange planet itself, Macky Pamintuan brings his gargantuan sense of humor to the Weird Planet series.

Soupy Saturdays with the Pain and the Great One

JUDY BLUME
ILLUSTRATED BY JAMES STEVENSON

MEET THE PAIN:

My sister's name is Abigail. I call her The Great One because she thinks she's so great. Who cares if she's in third grade and I'm just in first?

MEET THE GREAT ONE:

My brother's name is Jacob Edward, but everyone calls him Jake. Everyone but me. I call him The Pain because that's what he is. He's a first-grade pain. I'll always know exactly what he's thinking. That's just the way it is.

These seven warm-hearted stories will give readers a peek at how a brother and sister relate to each other.

*Game on—Toby will do anything

Toby Wheeler: Eighth-Grade Benchwarmer

THATCHER HELDRING

TOBY WHEELER LOVES basketball and playing pickup games at the local rec center. No coaches, no practices, just nonstop action with his best friend, JJ, at his side. But lately JJ's been acting like he's too busy for Toby, and Toby knows it will only get worse once basketball season begins at their junior high. That's because JJ is the star of their school team, while Toby is just an ordinary gym rat.

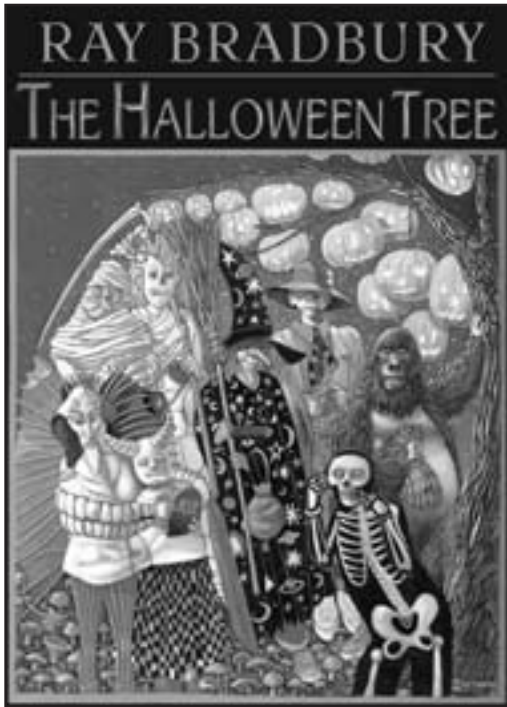

When Coach Applewhite offers Toby a chance to join the team, Toby's eager to prove he can keep up with JJ. But then the coach announces the lineup, and Toby's hopes of playing ball with JJ are history: he's an eighth-grade benchwarmer! Befriending the coach's daughter only makes matters worse. Now the only way Toby will get in the game is if he starts thinking like a team player, on and off the court.

Thatcher Heldring has had several jobs in book publishing. He has also worked as a small forward, a goalie, a scorekeeper, a coach, a rabid fan, and a benchwarmer. He and his wife, Staci, live in Seattle, a good place for indoor sports.

ON HALLOWEEN NIGHT, eight trick-or-treaters gather at the haunted house by the edge of town, ready for adventure. Can a clumsy stable boy save a stolen princess?

Butterfingers

J. M. TREWELLARD

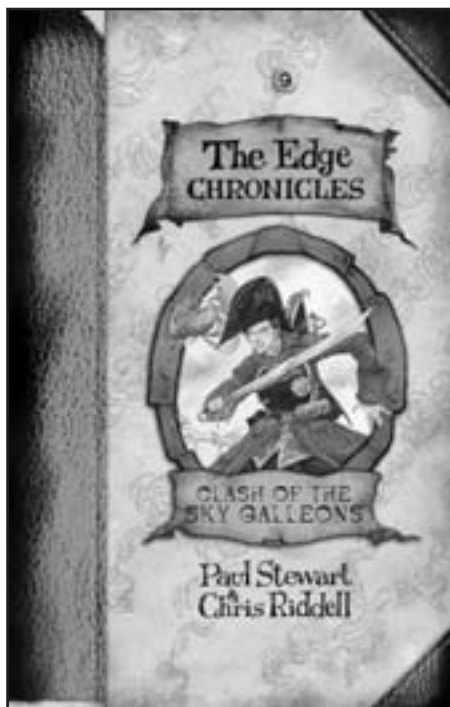

ILLUSTRATED BY IAN BECK

PRINCESS BELLA HAS been snatched from her secret garden by a terrifying monster, leaving behind nothing but a glittering golden ball. Not even the bravest knights in the kingdom can save her from the huge, dark, fire-breathing creature with enormous wings, a great swishing tail, and deadly claws. But clumsy Ned, the stable boy, is determined to succeed where the gallant knights have failed. Can he defeat the dragon and get the girl? Or will he let the chance to become a hero slip through his butterfingers? Join our unlikely hero and his animal friends on their daring quest across the plain, through the woods, and into the mountains to find out . . .

The Edge Chronicles: Clash of the Sky Galleons

PAUL STEWART
ILLUSTRATED BY CHRIS RIDDELL

QUINT IS TRAVELING with his father, Wind Jackal, on a mission to track down and bring to justice Turbot Smeal, the man who started the fire that killed their family. Having left behind his studies at the Knights Academy, Quint is now eager to learn what it really means to be a sky pirate and to learn from his father. But Wind Jackal is consumed by his desire to capture Smeal—and his judgment is flawed. His actions endanger the lives of his crew and his son. As Quint and Maris travel from the taverns and backstreets of Undertown and the wonders of the shipbuilders' yards to the dark dangers of the Deepwoods, they discover the truth about Smeal—and face a new terror.

Paul Stewart is a highly regarded author of books for young readers. He lives in Brighton, England.

Chris Riddell is an award-winning illustrator and political cartoonist. He lives in Brighton, England.

I'M LUCY ROSE and here's the thing about friends: I am lucky in them. And here's the thing about that: sometimes they are in need, indeed, especially when one of them buys a plumbing store and needs to diva it up so it can turn into a bakery. That is one job that takes work and costs plenty, and even 72 or more McBees couldn't get that job done by themselves. But between all the stuff you have to do in fourth and my bingo-calling and keeping track of my gigantic vocabulary and trying to keep away from the word thief Ashley and trying to stop the worst rumor you ever heard and dreaming up a money-making scheme that doesn't cost us money and plus having to build that bakery, I am working myself to pieces and bits. I would say most people would be so beat tired they'd collapse on the spot, but here's what I say to that: I am one busy bee who loves my friends.

Katy Kelly has never worked in a bakery, but she is very fond of cupcakes. Lucy Rose: Working Myself to Pieces & Bits is her fourth book for young readers. She lives in Washington, D.C.

A humble fox becomes a hero in this swashbuckling tale of adventure.

The Daring Adventures of Penhaligon Brush

ILLUSTRATED BY CHRISTIAN SLADE

PENHALIGON BRUSH LONGS for adventure and finds it aplenty in the seaside village of Porthleven. Within hours of his arrival, he is captured by armed ferrets and thrown into the dungeon of Furball Manor. Happily, he is rescued by friends. Unhappily, they explain that the dastardly wildcat, Sir Derek, and his ferret army plan to sink the ships of the princess of Spatavia that very night! Can Penhaligon and his unlikely band of resistors save the princess? Of course they can!

This is an old-fashioned adventure story, told with great verve and a fresh wit. Filled with more than 50 black and white illustrations, it's a perfect book to entice newly independent readers.

S. Jones Rogan traveled the world in search of adventure, then settled down in Los Angeles, California, where she works as a school librarian.

Raleigh's Page

ALAN ARMSTRONG

ILLUSTRATED BY TIM JESSELL

ANDREW HAS grown up near the Plymouth docks hearing the sailors talk about America. Knowing that Andrew's heart is set on going to the new world, his father sends him up to London to serve as page in the house of Walter Raleigh. In Queen Elizabeth's court, Raleigh's the strongest voice in favor of fighting with Spain for a position in the New World, and everyone knows that it's just a matter of time before Her Majesty agrees to an expedition. Can Andrew prove himself fit to go on an expedition to the New World?

Meticulously researched and brilliantly crafted, combining fictional characters with historical, Andrew's tale offers up a vivid look at the cloak-and-dagger politics of the time and a genuine feel for what it must have been like for the first Europeans to set foot on the beautiful, bountiful, savage shores of America.

Alan Armstrong's first book, Whittington, was awarded the Newbery Honor in 2006. He lives in Massachusetts with his wife, Martha, a painter.

Will Vasco and his companions ever find a place to call home?

Vasco, Leader of the Tribe

ANNE-LAURE BONDOUX

LIKE ALL THE RATS in his tribe, Vasco loves nothing more than to scurry around the harbor in search of discarded fish. But one day he discovers that the members of his tribe have died under mysterious circumstances. Now Vasco is alone . . . until he reluctantly joins some fearsome rats who live deep in the sewers. Among them, he makes some loyal friends and some daunting enemies. And, as he begins to understand that humans are masterminding the extinction of all the rats in the city, Vasco sees only one solution: to flee aboard a ship.

Courageous, humble, and determined, Vasco does his best to guide his exiled companions to a faraway land where they can live peacefully. But in struggling to establish a new tribe, and to find a place they can call home, Vasco must endure countless dangers and rise to many challenges.

Grk and the Pelotti Gang

JOSHUA DODER

NATASCHA AND MAX Raffifi, recently orphaned and new to England, are adjusting nicely to their new life. Anything's better than being on the run. Especially being reunited with their little black-and-white dog, Grk, and living with their friend, Tim.

But one afternoon, Natascha sees a familiar name in the newspaper headlines. The infamous Pelotti brothers are on a crime streak in Brazil. This gang of criminal masterminds has only ever been captured once—by her father. To avenge his senseless death, Natascha and Max know they have to act.

Setting off in the middle of the night, the Raffifis, with Tim and Grk at their side, arrive in Rio de Janeiro ready for action. But they find more trouble than they bargained for.

When he isn't traveling the world or writing about Grk, Joshua Doder is a reporter for The Guardian. He lives in London.

Nate the Great and the Musical Note

MARJORIE WEINMAN SHARMAT AND CRAIG SHARMAT
ILLUSTRATED BY MARC SIMONT

NATE THE GREAT has just received a strange musical note. The note tells Nate's friend Pip what his mother wants him to do at four o'clock. Their friend Rosamond has turned the note into a riddle. Nate checks Rosamond's garage, but doesn't find any clues. Time is running out for Nate and his dog, Sludge. It's almost four o'clock. Will Nate the Great stay stuck in the middle of this musical riddle?

Nate the Great Talks Turkey

MARJORIE WEINMAN SHARMAT AND MITCHELL SHARMAT
ILLUSTRATED BY JODY WHEELER

A GIANT TURKEY is on the loose! Nate doesn't want to take a case that everyone in town is on, not even when Claude claims that he saw the turkey or even when Olivia shows up on Nate's doorstep. It looks as though Nate can sit this case out—until he turns on his TV and a picture of the turkey flashes on! Now Nate, Olivia, Sludge, and Claude are all in pursuit of the bird. Are two (or more) detectives better than one?

Marjorie Weinman Sharmat has written every Nate the Great book. Here, she collaborates with her son, Craig Sharmat, as well as her husband, Mitchell Sharmat.

Marc Simont illustrated the first 30 Nate the Great books. Nate the Great Talks Turkey is Jody Wheeler's first.

INDIE KIDD CAN'T wait to be a cool grown-up. Actually, she wants to be a cool grown-up right now. Lately Indie's mother has been acting weird and treating her like she's a little kid. Indie thinks it would be cool to get a job and live wherever she wants, just like Caitlin, who rents a room in their house. She even wants to hang out with Caitlin rather than her own friends, who aren't grown up enough to understand how she feels. Little does she know that trying to be a cool grown-up could get her into a whole heap of trouble.

Karen McCombie has written many popular children's books. She lives in London, England, with her husband, daughter, and two fat cats.

Lydia Monks has illustrated many poetry and picture books for children. She lives in Sheffield, England, with her husband and daughter.

Counting on Grace

ELIZABETH WINTHROP

1910. POWNAL, VERMONT. AT 12, Grace and her best friend, Arthur, must leave school and go to work as a “doffers” on their mother’s spinning frames in the mill. But they write a secret letter to the Child Labor Board about underage children working in Pownal. A few weeks later, a man with a camera shows up: it is the famous reformer Lewis Hine. Grace’s brief acquaintance with Hine and the photos he takes of her are a gift that changes her sense of herself, her future, and her family’s future.

★ “History and fiction are woven seamlessly together in this beautifully written novel. Readers won’t soon forget Grace.”

—School Library Journal, Starred

 ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN EASTWOOD

“IN THIS beginning chapter book set in 1901, Muriel Ponsonby, aka the Catlady, keeps a large number of felines on her large country estate. She is both surprised and pleased to find Queen Victoria among her latest arrivals. . . . Sprinkled with black-and-white sketches deftly portraying the tale’s subtle British humor, The Catlady will appeal to King-Smith fans.”—School Library Journal

Lucy Rose: Busy Like You Can't Believe

KATY KELLY
 ILLUSTRATED BY ADAM REX

I'M LUCY ROSE, and here's the thing about fourth: that grade is busy like you can't believe! Especially if you are a person who is already plenty busy on account of having responsibilities and I am that kind exactly. I am already collecting a vocabulary, plus I have to think up new palindromes, and now I have to do the most P-U thing which is the multiplication tables, which I would say is a thing I hate, if I was allowed to say hate, which I am not.

Plus I have to do the greatest thing and that is be in the play of Annie and I'm sure I will get to be Annie because 1. I have red hair and 2. if I don't, I will absolutely perish to death.

Katy Kelly lives and writes in Washington, D.C. She keeps busy like you can't believe thinking up new adventures for Lucy Rose.

Puppet Pandemonium

DIANE ROBERTS

BAKER IS SURE there isn't anything worse than moving. Except being the new kid. Sure, Gram gave him Waldo, a ventriloquist's dummy, for company—but a puppet, no matter how funny it is, can't take the place of real friends. Baker is bummed.

Until he starts school and discovers that kids in Texas (cowboy hats aside) aren't as different as he thought. And that puppets just might be the key to fitting in. Let the show begin!

During her career as a puppeteer, Diane Roberts entertained thousands of children across the country, most often in the great state of Texas. She and her husband live in Fort Worth and are the parents of three grown children and have six grandsons.

IN THE MIDST of the worst winter on record, Rage Winnoway is beset with worry. Her mother still hasn't fully recovered from her car accident. Her uncle seems to be having second thoughts about being her guardian. And her only friend, Billy Thunder, is just a dog again. As if that weren't enough, violent, unnatural creatures are lurking in the woods around the farm, and the wind and snow seem increasingly unnatural, too. When Rage's dreams take her back to the land of Valley, she learns of a door that has opened up into an everlasting winter. Could its cold and despair be seeping into two worlds? This riveting second installment to the Gateway Trilogy is now available in paperback.

"The skillfully designed worlds, expressive prose, and theme of hope in the face of despair will appeal to fantasy fans."—School Library Journal

Through “do-over” power,
Elsa moves toward her authentic self.

Do-Over

CHRISTINE HURLEY DERISO

IMAGINE HAVING THE power to turn back time. Not 100 years—just 10 seconds. Enough to take back those embarrassing missteps and wrong answers.

Elsa’s mom died suddenly one year ago, but she appears one night to grant Elsa do-over power. Elsa thinks she dreamt it until she utters the words the next morning and watches her whole world rewind 10 seconds.

Elsa needs the do-over power to become cool at her new school. It’s fun taking people’s answers and being a star student one day, and gossip queen the next. Even the ultra-popular Slice Girls want to be her friend now. Elsa can re-do anything until she gets it right. So why doesn’t her new life feel so perfect?

Christine Hurley Deriso’s picture book, Dreams to Grow On, received the 2003 Independent Publisher Book Award in the Most Inspirational to Youth category. She lives in North Augusta, South Carolina.

Pieces of Georgia

JEN BRYANT

LIKE HER MOTHER, Georgia McCoy is an artist, but her dad looks away whenever he sees her with a sketchbook. Sometimes it's hard to remember what it was like when her mother was still alive . . . when they were a family. But then, a few days after her 13th birthday, Georgia receives a mysterious gift in the mail. That's when things begin to change.

An accessible novel in poems, Pieces of Georgia offers an endearing protagonist and the poignant story of a broken family coming together.

The Legend of Zoey

CANDIE MOONSHOWER

ZOEY'S FAMILY HAS a strange feeling about the two-tailed comet in the sky. But that doesn't mean Zoey will let them chaperone her class field trip to Reelfoot Lake, Tennessee—especially since Grandma Cope grew up near there. What if Grandma tells everyone about being a Native American? Zoey has no interest in her family's past. All she wants is for her parents to get back together, and for herself to fit in at school. She doesn't know what's hit her when, during the bus ride to Reelfoot, she's propelled back in time to 1811, when the lake was formed! Zoey knows they're headed for disaster, but can she find the courage to save them?

“A fast-paced story of a compelling regional history.”—The Bulletin

“The earthquakes [are] described with much attention to sensory detail. . . . Both girls are brave, resourceful, and credible products of their times.”

What if you had psychic powers
 you didn't want?

The Magic Nation Thing

ZILPHA KEATLEY SNYDER

ABBY O'MALLEY IS a girl who likes things to make sense. School makes sense, and her best friend Paige makes sense (most of the time), but her flighty mother never makes sense. Abby's mom seems to think that she and Abby are descended from a line of witches, and that they have special powers—special psychic powers that don't make sense at all. The problem is, Abby knows that she can do certain things that other people can't. Sometimes, when she holds an object in her hand, she's overpowered by sounds and pictures—sounds and pictures that might just show where the owner is and what he or she is doing. Abby thinks of this as her “magic nation,” because that is what her kindergarten teacher told her it was called. Now 11, Abby has an inkling that her teacher may have been saying it was her imagination, which unfortunately, she knows it is not. Some things are happening in her mother's detective agency—cases where Abby's “Magic Nation Thing” might come in handy. But does Abby want to admit that such a sensible girl could have such an unsensible power?

Zilpha Keatley Snyder received the Newbery Honor Award for The Egypt Game, The Witches of Worm, and The Headless Cupid. She lives with her husband in Mill Valley, California.

The Golden Compass Movie Tie-Ins

PHILIP PULLMAN

Alfred A. Knopf

TIMED FOR THE major motion picture release of The Golden Compass from New Line Cinema on December 7, 2007, here are three paperback editions, each featuring a movie tie-in cover and an 8-page insert of photos from the movie. The $150 million dollar film stars Nicole Kidman as Mrs. Coulter, Daniel Craig as Lord Asriel, Sam Elliott as Lee Scoresby, and newcomer Dakota Blue Richards as Lyra Belacqua. Philip Pullman's beloved classic tells the story of young Lyra Belacqua, content to run wild among the scholars in Jordan College with her daemon familiar always by her side. But the moment she hears hushed talk of Dust, an extraordinary particle, she's drawn to the heart of a terrible struggle—a struggle born of Gobblers and stolen children, witch clans and armored bears.

PHILIP PULLMAN

PUBLISHED IN 40 COUNTRIES, with over 5 million copies in print in North America alone, Philip Pullman's His Dark Materials trilogy—The Golden Compass, The Subtle Knife, and The Amber Spyglass—has graced the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, San Francisco Chronicle, Book Sense, and Publishers Weekly bestseller lists. For these deluxe editions, Philip Pullman has created new material: papers of Colonel John Parry for the 10-year anniversary of The Subtle Knife (15 new pages), and letters of Mary Malone from secret Magisterium files for The Amber Spyglass (10 new pages). In each book, the new material has been illustrated and handlettered by renowned artist Ian Beck and will be included in the backmatter.

Each deluxe edition also features a ribbon bookmark, rough-edged pages, and Pullman's own chapter-opening spot art. Sparkling gems from Philip Pullman!

His Dark Materials Boxed Set

PHILIP PULLMAN

FOR THE FIRST time, the hardcover editions of Philip Pullman's award-winning His Dark Materials trilogy (The Golden Compass, The Subtle Knife, and The Amber Spyglass) with the original, classic covers by Eric Rohmann, will be available in a boxed set.

Lyra's Oxford

PHILIP PULLMAN

LYRA'S OXFORD OPENS two years after The Amber Spyglass in the comfort and familiarity of Jordan College, where Lyra and her daemon, Pantalaimon, sit on the sun-drenched roof looking out over all of Oxford. But their peace is shattered when a strange bird—a witch's daemon, on its own—tumbles out of the sky, in search of a healing elixir to cure his witch of a strange new disease. Lyra and Pan decide to help—witches are friends, of course—but the closer their winding walk leads them toward the infamous Oxford alchemist, the stronger Lyra's sense that something is amiss. With gorgeous black-and-white woodcut illustrations by John Lawrence and a lavishly-illustrated fold-out map of Lyra's Oxford, this paperback edition is perfectly timed for the major motion picture release of The Golden Compass.

Philip Pullman won the prestigious Astrid Lindgren Memorial Award in honor of the body of his work. He lives in Oxford, England.

Love, Stargirl

JERRY SPINELLI

Alfred A. Knopf

LOVE, STARGIRL picks up a year after Stargirl ends and reveals the new life of the beloved character who moved away so suddenly at the end of Stargirl. The novel takes the form of “the world’s longest letter,” in diary form, going from date to date through a little more than a year’s time. In her writing, Stargirl mixes memories of her bittersweet time in Mica, Arizona, with involvements with new people in her life.

In Love, Stargirl, we hear the voice of Stargirl herself as she reflects on time, life, Leo, and—of course—love.

Praise for Stargirl:

- ★ “A magical and heartbreaking tale.”—Kirkus Reviews, Starred
- “Spinelli has produced a poetic allegorical tale about the magnificence and rarity of true nonconformity.”—The New York Times
- ★ “Part fairy godmother, part outcast, part dream-come-true, [Stargirl] possesses many of the mythical qualities of Maniac Magee.”

Naomi and Ely's No Kiss List

RACHEL COHN AND DAVID LEVITHAN

NAOMI AND ELY ARE BEST FRIENDS. Naomi loves and is in love with Ely, and Ely loves Naomi, but prefers to be in love with boys. So they create their "No Kiss List" of people neither of them is allowed to kiss. And this works fine—until Bruce. Bruce is Naomi's boyfriend, so there's no reason to put him on the List. But Ely kissed Bruce even though he is boring. The result: a rift of universal proportions and the potential end of "Naomi and Ely: the institution." Can these best friends come back together again?

The Sweet, Terrible, Glorious Year I Truly, Completely Lost It

LISA SHANAHAN

IN MY FAMILY, when anyone rides the wave of their emotions, we say they're chucking a birkett. When the emotion drives out all common sense, we say they're chucking a big one. The telltale signs are: flaming cheeks, shortness of breath, bulging eyes, and a prolonged illogical outburst.

Gemma Stone is convinced that it's always unseemly to chuck a birkett and that it's actually insane to chuck one in front of a complete stranger. But that was before she fell for a boy who barely knows she exists, before she auditioned for the school play, before she met the family of freaks her sister Debbie is marrying into, before the unpredictable Raven De Head took an interest in her, and before she realized that at the right time and for the right reason, a birkett could be a beautiful thing.

Lisa Shanahan is a prolific author of books for young children in her native Australia. This is her first novel for young adults.

The Other Half of Me

EMILY FRANKLIN

JENNY FITZGERALD HAS been outside the huddle, trying to fit in to her sports-obsessed family. The only time she knows the score is when she's holding an egg-carton palette and painting on a canvas, but even then she feels as though something is missing.

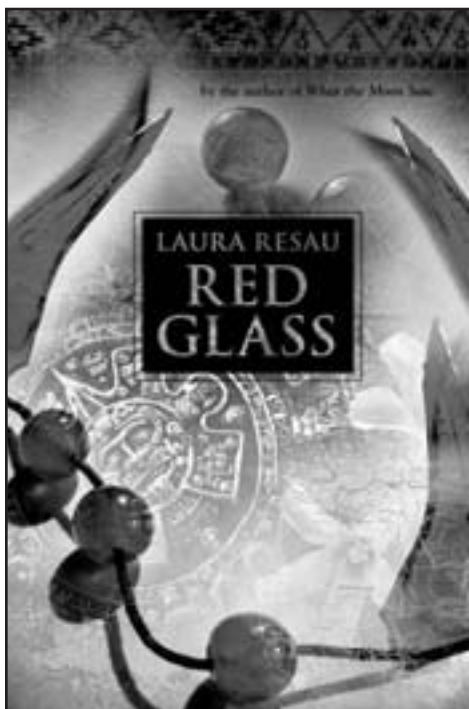

Unlike her three younger siblings, Jenny knows her biological father only as Donor #142.

As Jenny's 16th summer draws to a close, she feels more alienated than ever. But then a chance meeting with gorgeous über-jock Tate leads Jenny to reach out to someone else who might know exactly how she feels.

With Tate by her side, Jenny searches for a genetic relative in the Donor Sibling Registry and discovers that she has a half sister, Alexa. Jenny hopes their budding relationship will fill the gaps in her life, but when Alexa shows up on her doorstep for a surprise visit, the changes in Jenny's world are much bigger than she could ever have imagined.

Emily Franklin is the prolific author of the YA series The Principles of Love. She lives in Massachusetts with her husband and young children.

A moving novel from the author of the critically acclaimed What the Moon Saw.

LAURA RESAU

ONE NIGHT SOPHIE and her parents are called to a hospital where Pedro, a 6-year-old Mexican boy, is recovering from dehydration. Crossing the border into Arizona with a group of Mexicans and a coyote, or guide, Pedro and his parents faced such harsh conditions that the boy is the only survivor. Pedro comes to live with Sophie, her parents, and Sophie's Aunt Dika, a refugee of the war in Bosnia. Sophie loves Pedro—her Principito, or Little Prince. But after a year, Pedro's surviving family in Mexico makes contact, and Sophie, Dika, Dika's new boyfriend, and his son must travel with Pedro to his hometown so that he can make a heartwrenching decision.

What They Found

Love on 145th Street

WALTER DEAN MYERS

WALTER DEAN MYERS returns to the world of 145th Street: Short Stories to show how love can be found, and thrive, in the most unlikely places. Curtis finds love in Iraq as he struggles to stay alive in a war he doesn't want to fight, and Letha discovers her own beauty in the love of her child. There is the "good daughter" who realizes that there's only one way to help her brother and her family. Other stories center on the daily drama of the Curl-E-Que beauty shop, or capture the slapstick side of passion.

Praise for 145th Street: Stories:

★ "Myers has a great natural style . . . and is completely at home in a Harlem depicted without adulation but with great affection."

—The Horn Book Magazine, Starred

Walter Dean Myers has written over fifty books, which have received numerous awards, including two Newbery Honors, five Coretta Scott King Awards, and four Boston Globe-Horn Book Honors. He lives in New Jersey.

The stunning conclusion to the bestselling author's shapeshifter series.

The Kiesha'ra: Volume Five Wyvernail

AMELIA ATWATER-RHODES

HAI HAS ALWAYS been an outsider. With a falcon mother and a deceased cobra father, she is considered a mongrel by most, an ally by some, and a friend by few. Hai's broken falcon wings are a painful reminder of the life she once led on the island of Ahnmik. And here in Wyvern's Court, the avian and serpente royal family keep their distance, refusing to acknowledge her cobra bloodline. They know that Hai's magic is so volatile, she can barely control it, and images of the past and future threaten to overwhelm her.

When Hai's cousin, Oliza Sharda Cobriana, abdicates the throne of Wyvern's Court, Hai has visions only of destruction: the serpente king Salem, dying in her arms; the dutiful guard, Nicias, unable to save a generation of children; and Wyvern's Court engulfed in flames.

Now Hai will do anything to protect her new home—even if it means betraying the very people who need her most.

Amelia Atwater-Rhodes lives in Massachusetts.

Who are the bad guys?

Diamonds in the Shadow

CAROLINE B. COONEY

THE FINCH FAMILY did not know that five refugees landed from Africa on the day they went to the airport to welcome the family sponsored by their church. The Finch family only knew about the four refugees they were meeting—Andre, Celestine, Mattu, and Alake—mother, father, teenage son and daughter.

Soon Jared realizes that the good guys are not always innocent, and he must make a decision that could change the fate of both families. This story presents many points of view and a fresh perspective on doing the right thing.

Caroline B. Cooney is the author of many acclaimed books for young adults, including the Janie Quartet featuring The Face on the Milk Carton. She lives in Madison, Connecticut, and New York City.

The Promises of Dr. Sigmundus, Book I: The Hollow People

BRIAN KEANEY

ON THE SINISTER ISLAND where strict obedience to the laws of the mysterious Dr. Sigmundus holds sway, dreaming will get you locked up and branded a lunatic, a danger to society and to all who know you. In this doomed and repressive place, two teens that were never meant to meet or share their dreams, cross paths and set in motion that which rips them from the lives they were meant to lead. Together they join forces with a ragtag group of rebel forces bent on breaking the grip of lies and illusions their countrymen have accepted without question.

For fans of thoughtful science fiction and fantasy, The Hollow People opens a window on the unseen worlds that surround us. It is the first installment in The Promises of Dr. Sigmundus. Book II will continue the tale in fall 2008.

“This is a remarkable piece of writing, broodingly atmospheric and sympathetic toward its teenaged protagonists.”—The Times (London)

Brian Keaney's book Jacob's Ladder earned the admiration of His Dark Materials' Philip Pullman. He lives in London, England.

With a name like Shakespeare, life is a comedy of errors!

Spanking Shakespeare

JAKE WIZNER

SHAKESPEARE SHAPIRO HAS ALWAYS hated his name. His parents bestowed it on him as some kind of sick joke when he was born, and his life has gone downhill from there, one embarrassing incident after another. Entering his senior year of high school, Shakespeare has never had a girlfriend, his younger brother is cooler than he is, and his best friend's favorite topic of conversation is his bowel movements.

But Shakespeare will have the last laugh. He is chronicling every mortifying detail in his memoir, the writing project each senior at Shakespeare's high school must complete. And he is doing it brilliantly. And, just maybe, a prize-winning memoir will bring him respect, admiration, and a girlfriend . . . or at least a prom date.

Jake Wizner swears this isn't his story, but admits that his life improved significantly after he graduated from high school. These days he lives in New York City with his wife and two daughters and teaches eighth-grade English and history. Spanking Shakespeare is his first novel.

The extraordinary conclusion to the Gemma Doyle trilogy.

The Sweet Far Thing

LIBBA BRAY

IT HAS BEEN A YEAR OF CHANGE since Gemma Doyle arrived at the foreboding Spence Academy. Her mother murdered, her father a laudanum addict, Gemma has relied on an unsuspected strength and has discovered an ability to travel to an enchanted world called the realms, where dark magic runs wild. Despite certain peril, Gemma has bound the magic to herself and forged unlikely new alliances. Now, as Gemma approaches her London debut, the time has come to test these bonds.

The Order—the mysterious group her mother was once part of—is grappling for control of the realms, as is the Rakshana. Spence's burned East Wing is being rebuilt, but why now? Gemma and her friends see Pippa, but she is not the same. And their friendship faces its gravest trial as Gemma must decide once and for all what role she is meant for.

Libba Bray is the author of the New York Times bestselling novels A Great and Terrible Beauty and Rebel Angels. She lives in Brooklyn, New York, with her husband, son, and a cat of questionable intelligence.

Gert Garibaldi's Rants and Raves: One Butt Cheek at a Time

AMBER KIZER

GERT GARIBALDI ISN'T ONE OF those people who believe high school is the best part of life. She has a whole notebook full of rants about high school, and she's fully aware of how ridiculous the experience is, thank you very much. Gert just wants to survive the next three years, one butt cheek at a time, with her best friend, Adam, by her side—and maybe Luscious Luke attached to her lips. With a stapler. Or something. But muddling through isn't even as easy as it seems—there are geriatric parents to deal with, Homecoming festivities (admit it—those words just sent a little chill down your spine), crushes, ed (both sex and driving), and potential new boyfriends—for both Gert and Adam. Frank, funny, and totally unique, Gert's ready to pull on the Pants of Life and start dancing.

A celebrated speaker and teacher, Amber Kizer gives writing workshops for all ages. Visit her at www.amberkizer.com. For more from Gert, including deleted scenes, original material, and sneak peeks of upcoming Rants and Raves, visit www.onebuttcheek.com. She lives in Seattle, Washington.

A legendary secret. An ancient war. A magical destiny. And one boy who can unlock it all.

Grimpow
The Invisible Road

RAFAEL ÁBALOS

GRIMPOW HAD NO idea who the dead man was, but hidden in his leather bag was a treasure that would change his life forever. Ruby and emerald encrusted daggers, silver coins, jewels, and a letter with a golden seal depicting a snake swallowing its own tail. And clutched in the man's firm grip—a stone. A stone that will shape Grimpow's destiny. For when he holds it, strange things begin to happen. Visions of places he's never been fill his mind and he's able to read the strange language in the letter, a message meant for someone else entirely.

So begins Grimpow's journey with the stone—a centuries-long journey that has driven sane men crazy, turned peaceful men violent, and made strong men powerless. No man has ever unlocked its secrets. But no boy has ever tried.

As a teenager, Rafael Ábalos was an avid reader of adventure stories. A lawyer for many years, he discovered by accident that he loved to write these stories as well. His first book for young readers, Grimpow: The Invisible Road, will be published around the world in 27 countries. He lives and writes in southern Spain.

My Swordhand Is Singing

MARCUS SEDGWICK

WHEN TOMAS AND HIS SON, Peter, settle in Chust as woodcutters, Tomas digs a channel of fast-flowing waters around their hut, so they have their own little island kingdom. Peter doesn't understand why his father has done this, nor why his father carries a long, battered box, whose mysterious contents he is forbidden to know.

But Tomas is a man with a past: a past that is tracking him with deadly intent, and when the dead of Chust begin to rise from their graves, both father and son must face a soulless enemy and a terrifying destiny.

“This masterly, well-crafted vampire story breathes new life into the tale of the living dead. . . . A well-written book with wide appeal.”—The Bookseller

“Expertly researched and rich in detail, the slow, creeping sense of menace and myriad horrors of the deep woods will transfix readers.”

Kate the Know-It-All—stunning, overconfident, and a well-meaning buttincky, she has everything figured out, or so she thinks.

When their favorite hangout closes, these four friends are more adrift than ever before. A mysterious young Frenchwoman named Caroline Deneuve reopens the doors of the One Trick Pony. And their lives will never be the same.

You can't choose your family—or can you?

The Quantum July

RON KING

DANNY PARSONS IS a dreamer. He loves nothing better than to close his eyes and let the world slip away, dreaming of India, or Alaska, or Kenya—anywhere but his home, living any life but his life. Danny is sure that he was supposed to be someone else, living in a more interesting place, with a more interesting family.

Danny's sister, Bridget, believes that Danny's life is more interesting than he knows: she thinks he can set events in motion by touching equations. When she gives him an equation dealing with Chaos Theory to carry in his pocket, an amazing thing happens: Danny's family separates into two.

We can't choose our families. But Danny Parsons can. Trapped in the chaos of the quantum world, he's approaching the moment where he will have to, at last, choose—between the father he's always wanted, and the family he desperately needs.

Ron King, an English teacher, lives in Newcastle, New Hampshire. The Quantum July is his first novel.

Kidnapped kids usually have 24 hours to live. Charity Meyers has about 12 to go.

Taken

EDWARD BLOOR

BY 2035 THE RICH have gotten richer, the poor have gotten poorer, and kidnapping has become a major growth industry in the United States. The children of privilege live in secure, gated communities and are escorted to and from school by armed guards.

But the security around Charity Meyers has broken down. On New Year's morning, she wakes and finds herself alone, strapped to a stretcher, in an ambulance that's not moving. She is amazingly calm—kids in her neighborhood have been well trained in kidnapping protocol. If this were a normal kidnapping, Charity would be fine. But as the hours of her imprisonment tick by, Charity realizes there is nothing normal about what's going on here. No training could prepare her for what her kidnapers really want . . . and worse, for who they turn out to be.

Edward Bloor is the author of several acclaimed novels including London Calling and Tangerine. The author lives in Winter Garden, Florida.

Will Tom ever unearth his buried diamond—and be rid of its curse?

The Castaways

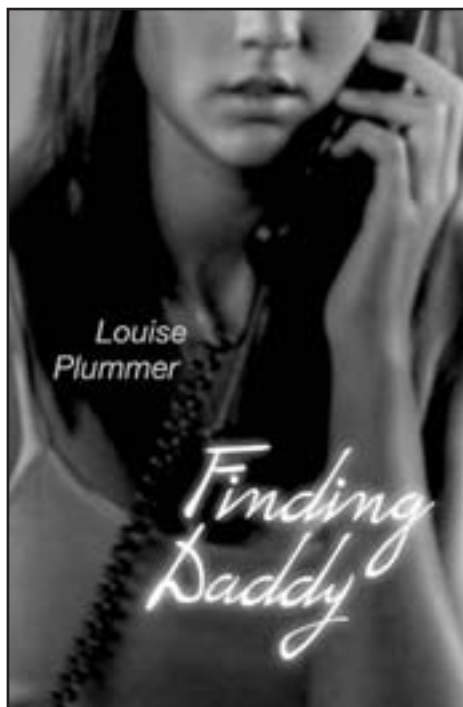

IAIN LAWRENCE

ADRIFT AT SEA, Tom Tin and his four convict companions are only too glad when they come upon a deserted ship. The boys clamber aboard, not knowing whether they've been saved or set on a course toward doom. But after rescuing two men stranded on a melting iceberg, Tom begins to suspect that these unsavory sailors are dangerous castaways from this very vessel. The more Tom questions the men, the more they dislike him. So, when Tom overhears them plotting to get rid of him, he knows they mean it. But the other boys don't feel threatened—at least not until the sailors attempt to sell them as slaves, a decision that ends with death for some . . . and with Tom sailing the ship home to England.

Soon Tom discovers that he has to cast away every ill-intentioned companion from his voyage home before he can truly be free.

Iain Lawrence is the author of numerous acclaimed novels, including The Cannibals, The Convicts, Gemini Summer, B for Buster, The Lightkeeper's Daughter, Lord of the Nutcracker Men, Ghost Boy, and the High Seas Trilogy: The Wreckers, The Smugglers, and The Buccaneers. Is the world around you really what it seems?

The Outcasts

L. S. MATTHEWS

NONE OF THE FIVE OUTCASTS really even participate in school, much less school activities, so that all of them actually went on the field trip was somewhat of a miracle. And when reality splits, and they end up in another dimension, you can imagine how badly they'll all wish they'd stayed home.

Five outcasts fall out of reality. How many will make it back to the world as they know it?

L. S. Matthews writes full-time in England, where she lives with her husband and two children. Her first book for young readers, Fish, was named a Publishers Weekly Best Book of the Year, and was a Borders Original Voices Book.

A Bridge to the Stars

HENNING MANKELL

JOEL AND HIS FATHER LIVE in a small town in the cold northern part of Sweden. Joel's father was once a sailor who lived by the sea. Joel's mother once lived with them. Joel's father abandoned the sea. Joel's mother abandoned Joel and his father.

While looking out his window late one misty night, Joel sees a lonely dog on the street. Joel spots the animal again on another occasion and begins sneaking out night after night, trying to find it. During these nocturnal outings, Joel discovers aspects of life he has never imagined. And then one night he discovers that his father's bed, too, is empty. As Joel investigates his father's mysterious absences and continues to search for the dog, he discovers his own inner strength and learns about adult disappointments and needs. Joel's world is brought vividly to life and leaves the reader full of hope for his and his father's future.

The Hollywood Sisters: Caught on Tape

MARY WILCOX

JEREMY. ☺ ALEX. ☹ HEATHCLIFF?

Now that we're living in Hollywood, Eva thinks anything is possible—including casting the part of my boyfriend! As for the players: one's an actor (bad sign), one's a snobby rich kid (worse sign), and one doesn't even exist (stop sign). Guess who my sister picked?

Praise for The Hollywood Sisters series:

“Enjoyably fluffy subject matter done smartly and well . . . an easy-to-sell, highly enjoyable tale of the small screen.”—The Bulletin, Recommended

Here are three clues to where author Mary Wilcox lives. Legally Blonde was filmed there. Sabrina the Teenage Witch was set there. Matt Damon was born there.

Kiss My Book

JAMIE MICHAELS

RUBY CRANE IS a rising star. At 15, she sold her first book, got a movie deal, scored the hottest guy in school, and became the most popular student at Frasier High. Now, as a soon-to-be junior and published author, she's ready to make waves in New York's literary world.

But every star falls back to earth one day. Ruby's accused of plagiarism—on national television. And the worst part is that the proof of her literary lies is indisputable.

Her friends won't return her phone calls. Her boyfriend's gone AWOL. The media vultures are flying low, and they want answers. So Ruby does what any self-respecting headline would do. She disappears. And that's when her story really begins.

A lover of books, words, and libraries, Jamie Michaels was born and raised in New York City and can often be spotted reading in Central Park, on the subway, or pretty much anywhere.

makes the rules.

Platinum

JENNIFER LYNN BARNES

FAREWELL TO MANZANAR is the true story of one spirited Japanese American family's attempt to survive the indignities of forced detention . . . and of a native-born American child who discovered what it was like to grow up behind barbed wire in the United States.

“[Jeanne Wakatsuki Houston] described vividly the life in the camp and the humiliations suffered by the detainees. . . . A sober and moving personal account.”—Publishers Weekly

Jeanne Wakatsuki Houston and James D. Houston live and write in Santa Cruz, California. For their teleplay for the NBC television drama based on Farewell to Manzanar, they received the prestigious Humanitas Prize.

It's back to school for Jess Jordan—confused, pantless, and alone(?).

Girl, Going on 17: Pants on Fire

SUE LIMB

IT'S NEVER FUN when a great summer comes to an end.

Particularly when one argues with one's adorable but grossly insensitive boyfriend the night before school starts. It's such a terrible fight, Jess doesn't know—are they broken up? Should she apologize? Too bad Jess is spending all her time in detention and can't talk to Fred to figure it out. A sadistic new English teacher has decided Jess needs an attitude adjustment, and Jess can't seem to stop making terrible mistakes. When she ends up pantless in her own backyard, Jess is left to ask herself: where did she go wrong? And what can be done to make it up to Fred and salvage this horrible, horrible year?

Sue Limb's writing career started in London around 1980, with various assignments for magazines and newspapers. She recently completed a prequel to Girl, 15, Charming but Insane, which Delacorte will publish in Spring 2008. She lives in England.

Letting Go of Lisa

LURLENE MCDANIEL

NATHAN MALONE HAS been home-schooled his entire life. He's never spent much time with kids his own age and he's never dated. His mother is now busy with his new twin sisters, so Nathan must enroll at the local high school for his senior year. On the first day, a girl on a motorcycle catches his eye and Nathan is excited to discover the girl is also in his English class.

Not only does Lisa ride a motorcycle to school, but she's a loner who seems to come and go as she pleases. She doesn't care what anybody thinks of her. Nathan is intrigued—he's never met anyone like her or had such strong feelings. When he and Lisa finally start spending time together, he's the happiest he's ever been.

But Lisa has a tragic secret and when she decides she'll handle it herself, Nathan has to make a choice. Can he ever let go of Lisa?

Lurlene McDaniel began writing inspirational novels about teenagers facing life-altering situations when her son was diagnosed with juvenile diabetes. "I want kids to know that while people don't get to choose what life gives to them, they do get to choose how they respond."

Anyone but You

LARA M. ZEISES

CRITTER AND JESSE have been close to Sea since her dad moved in with their mother. Closer still since he took off six years ago and Layla decided to raise Sea as one of her own. It's a decision none of them regrets, especially not Critter. He's more than a brother—he's Seattle's best friend.

But when Seattle comes up with a plan for them to bluff their way into the ritzy pool club over summer vacation, it's a big mistake. Soon Critter's got his heart set on a Penn Acres princess, while Seattle's trying hard not to fall for a skater boy on the rebound. For the first time in a long while, they can talk to anyone but each other. Then Seattle's dad shows up unexpectedly, and the way of life Critter and Seattle have always known begins to change even more. . . .

“A sophisticated novel about family, love and growing up.”

—Publishers Weekly

Lara M. Zeises holds a Master of Fine Arts degree in creative writing from Emerson College. This is her third novel. She lives in Wilmington, Delaware.

“Fine fun for fans of both Kafka and Spiderman.”—Kirkus Reviews

Fly on the Wall

E. LOCKHART

AT THE MANHATTAN School for Art and Music, where everyone is “different” and everyone is “special,” Gretchen Yee feels ordinary. She’s the kind of girl who sits alone at lunch, drawing pictures of Spider-Man, so she won’t have to talk to anyone.

One day, Gretchen wishes that she could be a fly on the wall in the boys’ locker room—just to learn more about guys. Fly on the Wall is the story of how that wish comes true.

“With an appropriate nod and wink to Kafka, this unexpectedly sharp comedy charts its own metamorphosis.”—The Horn Book Magazine

E. Lockhart is the author of The Boyfriend List, and its companion, The Boy Book. She has never turned into an animal of any sort and her knowledge of the boys’ locker room is purely imaginary. Visit her on the Web at www.theboyfriendlist.com.

We know that it is the love of children's literature we share with you that helps get these new voices into readers' hands and, for this, we thank you.

"As president of Random House Children's Books, I am always eager and excited to acquire new talent for our house and our readers. It is a thrill to open the doors of our house to a new voice. I take great pride in knowing that we are contributing to the enrichment of young readers, as well as supporting new literary voices. Random House Children's Books is truly motivated by this and we certainly could not do it as successfully without the help of booksellers, teachers, and librarians who believe in our cause."—Chip Gibson

Our Alphabet Book

STEVE MARTIN AND ROZ CHAST

THIS ISN'T YOUR run-of-the-mill alphabet book—world renowned performer Steve Martin and sharply clever illustrator Roz Chast have teamed up to create 26 weird, delightful worlds of alphabetical alliteration. Chasts' whimsical doodles add a level of detail that both kids and adults will love poring over: blink and you'll miss the framed picture of a beatnik holding balloons behind Bad Baby Bubbleducks or the Newts, Nunchucks, & Beyond store just beyond a nun offering her companion some nuts.

Undoubtedly a new classic for readers of all ages, Our Alphabet Book is the perfect gift for absolutely anyone (and their adult aardvark.)

Steve Martin is a celebrated writer, actor, and performer. His film credits include Father of the Bride and The Spanish Prisoner, as well as Roxanne, L.A. Story, and Bowfinger, for which he also wrote the screenplays. His work appears frequently in The New Yorker and The New York Times. He lives in New York City.

Roz Chast's cartoons have been appearing in The New Yorker since 1978.
